

Wages, Baseball Insurance and Other Matters

Public Works Board Decides to Carry Its Own Compensation Insurance and Fix Wage Scale at $2.50 Per Day—Had Men to Get Welcome Arch.

Among the matters considered Tuesday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the board of public works was the decision to hereafter carry its own workmen's compensation insurance, and the fixing of the minimum wage scale to be paid by the board at $2.50 per day. The board also decided to sell the Welcome Arch that originally stood on Albany avenue at the entrance to the city to the Red Men's Association of this city, who had asked for it. Two applications from local baseball clubs for use of the baseball diamond at Hasbrouck Park this summer were referred to Mayor Dempsey.

Compensation Insurance. Mayor Dempsey called the board's attention to the question of workmen's compensation insurance and stated that among fifty-five cities in the state, twenty-three of them were carrying their own compensation insurance. During the past five years the board has paid out the sum of $44,000 in premiums on its compensation insurance, and about $15,000 in other words, if the city had carried its own insurance it would have saved about $30,000.

On motion of Commissioner J. David Schenck the board adopted a resolution that the city of Kingston carry its own workmen's compensation insurance from and after April 16, and that application be made to the industrial commissioner of the state requesting him to grant to the city the desired privilege.

Adopt a Minimum Wage Scale.

The question of increasing the minimum wage scale paid employees of the board to $3.50 per day was also brought up by Mayor Dempsey, who said he favored it. At the present time the lowest wages paid city employees is that received by the street sweepers, who receive $3.25 per day.

After some discussion the minimum wage scale of $3.50 per day was adopted.

Commissioner Amos Van Etten said he had talked with five or six employees of the street department regarding the wage question and the consensus of opinion was that the men should be paid for the amount of work they did. It was brought out that it would be possible to classify the employees of the board and pay them according to the class of work they did.

Water Board Extensions.

Mayor Dempsey said that the water board was planning the laying of larger water mains in Main street, to Green street, to North Front street, and believed it would be a good idea for the street committee of the board to meet with the water board and ascertain when the work was to be started. This will be done.

Red Men Want Arch.

The mayor said he had received a request from the Red Men's Association of the city for the Welcome Arch that formerly stood on Albany avenue at the entrance to the city. He understood that they were contemplating erecting a building and wanted to use the material in the arch.

This arch was torn down several years ago and is now stored on the property of the board of public works. It was built of an artificial stone manufactured in Poughkeepsie.

The board agreed of the opinion that it had no right to give away city property but as the arch was of no use it was decided to offer it to the Red Men for the nominal sum of $5.

Summer Baseball Here.

Requests were received from the Clermont A. C. and the Koenig All Stars for the use of the baseball diamond at Hasbrouck Park this summer and the requests were referred to Mayor Dempsey who said he would get in touch with the managers of the two teams and have them draw up a schedule of games so that it could be arranged for both clubs to have the use of the diamond during the baseball season.

Adopt Sewer Ordinances.

At the last meeting of the board it was decided to build sewers in Lonsberry Place and on Crane street, 75 per cent of the cost to be paid by interested property owners. At the meeting Tuesday evening the city engineer submitted ordinances covering the construction of the sewers which were adopted.

Move Street Lights.

Commissioner Van Etten, reporting for the lighting committee, recommended the installation of the street light on Park avenue; one on Pine Grove avenue near Fuller's shirt factory, and another on Greenhill avenue. The report was adopted.

Questions on Pipe.

It is necessary to lay a new pipe line in Jacob's Valley and the board had asked for bids on pipe. Three bids were received and opened.

Andrew Kuefe submitted a bid of $2.75 per foot on Armo iron pipe. The Kingston Lumber Corporation submitted a bid of $2.10 per foot on vitrified pipe.

The Universal Road Machinery Company submitted a bid of $2.35 per foot on concrete pipe.

The city is filling in at Jacob's Valley.

Entertainment Program For the Benedictine Ball

The entertainment program for the Benedictine Ball to be held at the armory on Easter Monday night, April 1, is now complete and a study of the arrangements will show that this year's offerings to those who do not dance, but enjoy worth-while entertainment, will eclipse past performances.

Variety and novelty mark the program, which is made up of dances, social offerings and other features that are bound to please. The entertainment committee has received many compliments from those experienced in arranging entertainments, who were asked to pass on the program before its final approval.

The costume dance, which will be executed by about forty graceful little misses and youths of this city, promises to be one of the outstanding features of the program. The costumes to be used are said to be of a very pretty variety.

Those in the costume dance are the Misses Helen Amphlett, Ellen Bryne, Margaret Schoonmaker, Sailey O'Leary, Evelyn Gellor, Ruth Joseph, Marie Ward, Catherine Meagher, M. Frances Finn, Theresa Lloyd, Helen Noonan, Kathleen Golden, Eleanor Murphy, Julia Brink, Anna G. Finn, Jane Ward, Theresa Heimerle, Dolores Rist, Margaret O'Meara, Anna O'Meara, Marjorie Turner, M. Virginia Mullen, Margaret Mullen, Dolores Mullen, Matilda Bott, Emilia Brown, Isabel Murphy, June S. MacFadden, Marie L. Sheppard, Josephine R. Dutton, Rosaline M. Joyce, Katrina S. Fischer, Betty Murphy, Eulalia Sangaline, Robert Cullum, Donald Rafferty, Joseph Falvey, William Scully, Arthur Byrne and John Cullum.

A skit, entitled "Spanish Love", will be presented by Miss Carolyn B. Rich, soprano soloist, and Emilia Riccobono, who are to do a tango duet. This promises to be a novelty most pleasing.

Acrobatic Dance.

Another number on the program, that will command much attention, is predicted to be that put on by little Miss Dorothy, Victor of Mr. Vernon, N. Y. Dorothy, although but 12 years of age, is a very capable acrobatic dancer and holds the distinction of having performed at a number of outstanding social events in and about New York. This little artist, who performed here about four years ago in a very admirable manner, was procured to do her act this year because she will be spending her Easter vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krause of Woodstock.

John Cullum of this city, who possesses a sweet tenor voice, will be one of the soloists at the ball. Mr. Cullum, it is predicted by friends who have had the pleasure of listening to him on past occasions, will be one of the outstanding performers at the Easter Monday Ball.

Many people will attend the ball just to hear the Colonial Chorus, a quartet of well-known Kingston singers, who have received so many rounds of applause in the past at such functions as the Benedictine Ball. The Colonial Chorus are made up of Mabelle Wicks, soprano; Jeanne Mills, contralto; Joseph Craig, tenor, and Vernon Miller, baritone.

Then last, but not least, Otilia Riccobono and Emilia Riccobono, C. M., talented dancers, will have a conspicuous place on the bill of offerings. These two ladies, who are members of the Al Golem Persian Entertainers and have traveled the country from coast to coast on the most prominent vaudeville circuits, will have an act well worth witnessing.

Ticket sales indicate that the Easter Monday Ball will be one of the biggest ever held at the armory.

Central Hudson Line Boats Will Be Sold April 24

What is likely to prove the greatest financial transaction Newburgh has ever had since the West Shore Railroad was sold here on November 24, 1888, for $22,000,000, will take place on April 24, at 1 o'clock, at the Newburgh Court House when the assets of the Central Hudson Steamboat Co. will be sold under the hammer in a foreclosure suit instituted by the Equitable Trust Co. of New York, as trustee, says the Newburgh News.

The steamboat company will not bring the sum paid for the railroad but it is probable that it will exceed any other sale ever negotiated here.

The sale will include all of the boats of the Central Hudson fleet, the Jacob H. Tremper, Homer Ramsdell, Benjamin B. Odell, and Poughkeepsie; the dock property in Newburgh, Cornwall, Milton, Kingston, Highland and Poughkeepsie; leases in Albany, New York city, Beacon, New Hamburg, Marlborough, Cold Spring and other places. The directions from the court to Stark B. Ferriss, special master for the sale is that unless the total of the separate bids or the amount of the gross bid shall equal $425,000 there shall be no sale and he shall report to the court for further instructions.

Curtailment of Oil Production Is Recommended

American Petroleum Institute Committee Believes Daily Crude Oil Production Should Not Exceed Average During 1928—Federal Oil Conservation Board Must Approve Plan.

New York, March 27 (AP)—A return on April 1 to the 1928 production basis was recommended to the directors of the American Petroleum Institute today by the institute's committee on world production and consumption of petroleum and its products.

Announcement of the committee's action was made by R. C. Holmes, president of the Texas Company and general chairman of a meeting of oil producers held at the institute's offices.

"In attempting to formulate a plan whereby the conservation of crude oil can become an actual accomplishment, and at the same time avoid the wide-fluctuating condition resulting from overproduction the committee has been guided by the thought that whatever is practical should be done without delay," said Holmes.

"At the Houston meeting of the committee on March 15, last regional committee reports were considered," said Holmes' statement, "and the recommendation is being submitted to the board of directors of the American Petroleum Institute that beginning April 1 average daily crude oil production for the four regions, namely Pacific Coast, Gulf and Atlantic, Interior, and Mexico and Northern South America, should not exceed the average daily production during the year 1928."

The general committee also recommended that committees be established to enable the industry to keep in effect any plan adopted as workable and to study all various features through which a more orderly operation can be conducted and waste of all kinds avoided.

Logical Step, Says Holmes.

Holmes said that the four regional committees reported to the general committee this morning that the 1928 production basis could be put into effect. The efforts of the industry to curb overproduction, he said, had been made with the full knowledge of federal and state authorities and constitute the logical step that can be taken to bring about economical stabilization.

The final plan of action will be submitted to the federal oil conservation board, appointed by former President Coolidge in 1924, for approval and then submitted to the state authorities of the principal oil producing sections.

The federal oil conservation board was represented by Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the U. S. geological survey and chairman of the advisory committee of the board. E. B. Reaser, president of the Petroleum Institute; Sir Henri Deterding, managing director of the Royal Dutch Shell Group; and E. J. Sadler, president of the Creole Petroleum Corporation, representing Mexican and Venezuelan producers, were present, in addition to about 50 officials of the foremost American companies.

The meeting of the general committee was followed by a session of the directors of the American Petroleum Institute to whom recommendations for the conservation plan were submitted.

Big Bond Proposal Stirs Legislature

Gov. Roosevelt Says It Is a Question of Increasing Taxes Next Year or Submitting Bond Proposal to Voters Next Autumn.

Albany, March 27 (AP)—The question of a $50,000,000 bond issue to provide funds for state institutions, together with the reporting out in the Senate of appropriation bills totaling $800,000 and submission by the governor of supplementary budget figures totaling $400,000, today was giving the legislature something new to think about.

All this came on top of the much-battled-over subject of the main supplementary budget bill of $54,600,000, which remains to be approved by the legislature and the governor. On the surface, at least, there were no developments in this struggle over the main supplementary budget between the executive and the legislative majority. Many on Capitol Hill thought an extra session inescapable with these matters unsettled as the end of the regular session drew near.

The $50,000,000 bond issue recommended by the governor last night would go for construction of state hospitals and charitable institutions, if provided for by the legislature and approved by referendum. The need for the work, said the governor, was urgent. Figured on the basis of normal growth of population, in the next seven years, he said, there will be 27,000 more patients for insane hospitals than they can take care of.

"I am very clear in my mind," he said, "that it is a question of increasing taxes next year or of submitting the proposal of a bond issue to the voters of the state at the election this autumn. I am in favor of the issuing of bonds as the most sound and least burdensome of the two proposals."

The governor's message dealing with the supplementary measures and the bill accompanying it, were ordered tabled by Majority Leader John Knight.

The appropriation measures reported out by the Senate finance committee included items for four temporary commissions and a large amount of matter included by the governor in his executive budget and removed therefrom by the action of the same committee.

SENT ADVERSARY TO DEATH FROM 4,000 FEET ALTITUDE.

Mexico City, March 27 (AP)—In the first aerial battle to the death ever fought in Mexico a Federal pilot was victor. He sent his Rebel adversary crashing from an altitude of 4,000 feet, government advisers today said.

The battle occurred Sunday during the siege of Mazatlan by Rebel forces under General Roberto Cruz and Francisco Manzo. A Federal plane piloted by Lieutenant Jorge Llerenas met the Rebel plane over Venadilla, a suburb of Mazatlan, and after brief maneuvering and fighting put the hostile craft out of commission.

City and County Expect to Appeal In B'way Matter

Matter of Eliminating Broadway Crossing by Depressing the Streets to Come Before Common Council Next Week—Will Be Taken Up Also With Supervisors.

It is expected that both the city and the county authorities will take an appeal to the courts from the order of the state public service commission directing the elimination of the Broadway crossing by depressing the streets.

Mayor E. J. Dempsey stated this morning that after consulting with the common council and Corporation Counsel Harry H. Flemming, the city will decide on its future course. It seems to be the general opinion that an appeal should be made by the city to the courts to restrain the Public Service Commission order depressing Broadway from being put into effect.

The matter will be taken up with the common council at its meeting on Tuesday, April 2, and it is expected that the common council will direct the mayor and corporation counsel to make an appeal from the order inasmuch as the survey proposed by the city and county has not been made and the officials believe that the residents of Kingston were entitled to know what the cost of depressing the tracks instead of the street would be.

Corporation Counsel Harry H. Flemming is out of town and is not expected back before Thursday at which time Mayor Dempsey will take the matter up with him. The order from the Public Service Commission, as given in The Freeman on Tuesday, was received by Mayor Dempsey in this morning's mail.

County Attorney Robert G. Groves stated this morning that he would take the question up with the board of supervisors at once.

Officer Bowser Has Resigned

Policeman Harold R. Bowser on Tuesday filed his resignation as a member of the Kingston police force with Chief of Police J. Allan Wood. Action on the resignation will be taken at the regular monthly meeting of the board of police commissioners on Friday evening. GANDHI FINED RUPEE FOR DEFFING POLICE ORDERS

Calcutta, India, March 27 (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, Indian Nationalist leader, was convicted today in court here of defying police orders against destroying foreign cloth and was fined one rupee (about 25 cents).

Gandhi's hearing took place yesterday. He denied any intention of defying police orders against destruction of foreign cloth and denied their right to interfere with a peaceful meeting. Police interfered and disorders followed during which a number of police were wounded. When Gandhi entered the courtroom yesterday the lawyers and others, including the police, rose to their feet.

Hoover Will Not Wield "Big Stick" In Farm Relief

Believes Party Platform Presented Plan, But Principles Are Known to Congress and Country, and That Law Makers Should Proceed for Permanent Solution.

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Mr. Hoover's view on the relations between the federal government and some of the commercial banks of the United States, as expressed in his statement on the subject of the proposed legislation for the relief of the country, is that the government should not take the initiative in the relief of the country, but that it should wait until the legislative branch of the government has taken action.

The statement is the declaration of the president to refrain from writing an agricultural measure and imposing it upon Congress, but behind that is a sound principle of the bill itself.

Some of the leaders in Congress take position that since Mr. Hoover led the fight before the country for a relief measure, the president should take the initiative in the relief of the country, but behind that is a sound principle of the bill itself.

Among this group are those who profess to be unable to determine just what the party plan is, and they advance this as a further argument why the president should take the initiative and guide the committee of Senate and House which are wrestling with the problem.

President Hoover's View.

The president's view is that the Kansas City platform provided a plan; that this plan was presented to the country time and time again and that the principles are well known alike to Congress and the country. Consequently he sees no reason why the committees should have difficulty on this score.

Beyond this, however, is his determination against being placed in the position of undertaking to wield a "big stick" over Congress. Such practice in the past has led to sharp attacks on the executive from members of his own party as well as those in the opposition ranks.

Disagreement on Farm Board's Power.

The disagreement on the fundamental principles of the bill revolves around the powers that are to be given the proposed farm board. Mr. Hoover's idea is for a grant of power which would enable the board to deal with not only the present problem in the agricultural industry, but also those problems that may arise in the future.

This is resisted in some congressional quarters on several grounds. One is that the board, given such power might encroach upon the functions of other agencies of the government, such as the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Farm Loan Board.

Another is that this grant of power might prove dangerous and is too great to be placed in the hands of a board which is without direct responsibility to the people, as would be the case of men appointed by the chief executive with the advice of the Senate.

Wants Permanent Solution.

Frequently during the presidential campaign, Mr. Hoover declared for a permanent solution of the farm problem and so is opposed to legislation which would deal with only the present emergency. Unquestionably he had in mind the delays that attend efforts of Congress to legislate in each specific case.

Efforts to smooth out these differences are under way and those responsible hope that the House and Senate committees can report out measures which will be acceptable alike to the President and Congress.

Meanwhile the chief executive is holding himself in readiness for conferences with the farm leaders while the legislation is in the formative stage, but he will withhold any public discussion of the form of the bill until he sends his measure to the special session which begins on April 15.

Arrest Deyo on Assault Charge

George Deyo of Harwich street, whose car struck and injured Joseph Moon, 75, of Harwich street, on Foxhall avenue at Albany avenue on Tuesday, was placed under arrest following the accident by the police, who charged Deyo with assault in the third degree.

This morning in police court Judge A. H. Van Buren adjourned the hearing to April 19, to await the outcome of the injuries sustained by Moon, who is in the Kingston Hospital with a possible fracture of the skull and other injuries.

Ball for Deyo's appearance in court was furnished by Tony Scaddi of Yarmouth street, town of Ulster, owner of the car that Deyo was driving at the time.

State Writes Most Insurance

Albany, March 27.—Official reports filed by insurance companies writing workmen's compensation insurance in New York state showed today that the State Insurance Fund writes a larger volume of this insurance than any other carrier. The State Fund attained first place with written premiums for 1928 of $5,346,122, while its nearest competitor showed a total of $7,577,962. More than fifty private companies compete with the State Fund in this field.

Announcement that the State Fund had won leadership was made by Frances Perkins, Industrial Commissioner, who added that current reports from Charles G. Smith, manager of the State Fund, showed a volume of business for the last twelve months exceeding even the figures for the twelve months of 1928.

The State Fund was created by the legislature in 1914, and many of its original policyholders are still insured in it. Employers in the state have been turning to its service in fast-growing numbers in recent years. Commissioner Perkins said, until today it is the leading carrier in its line.

The assets of the State Fund are more than $16,390,000, and in the last fifteen years State Fund discounts and dividends have saved more than $16,756,000 in insurance costs to the employers insured in it.

Nothing to Drink In Poughkeepsie

Poughkeepsie is now drier than any time since last July when prohibition men effected a wholesale raid, according to Dutchess County District Attorney Reynolds' declaration of war on illicit beverages, according to reports from the Bridge City. It is said that every beer tap in the city has run dry, the supply having run out over the week end. So-called liquor is at a premium in Poughkeepsie, it is said.

Saturday night in the down river city was one of the quietest in years for some who generally start their week-end rest with a little carousing. Speakeasies were out of beer of any appreciable content, and those few who tried to stomach near-beer soon gave up in disgust. Most of the saloons and liquor dispensing establishments, according to reports of the police and district attorney, shut down voluntarily.

The present aridity of Poughkeepsie is said to have been caused by District Attorney Reynolds' statement that his war on the illicit beverage dispensers would be very strict. His plans of course are under cover.

"TOBACCO TOWN" PRODUCES 60,000,000 CIGARETTES A DAY

Reidsville, N. C., March 27.—The capital of the tobacco kingdom, the largest tobacco community in the world devoted exclusively to the manufacture of one brand of cigarette, is located here. It consists of buildings especially designed to carry the tobacco through all the steps of manufacture from raw leaf to finished cigarette.

But this tobacco town is not yet large enough. Ten additional storage buildings are under construction by the American Tobacco Company to increase the available leafy stock. Tobacco supply to 59,444,544 pounds required to meet growing demands. In their arrangement, the large number of warehouses needed to take care of this immense amount of tobacco resemble a huge army camp, ready for inspection, the tidy buildings standing in neat alignment. The outside air, warmed by the sunbath, is allowed to circulate through the warehouses and gradually mellow the tobacco. Immediately noticeable to the visitor is a distinctive pleasing odor of the treated tobacco which pervades the neighborhood, coming from the venting even through the windows which the tobacco is passed in the process of manufacture.

The factory produces 60,000,000 cigarettes each day. Many modern high speed machines turning out cigarettes faster than the human eye can count them. The cigarettes pass through numerous inspections in the course of manufacture.

She needs
the car too . . .

SAID a woman who lives in a suburb: "I look forward to week-ends, just as much as my husband does. But when Saturday comes, I send him off in the car for golf or fishing or something else that he likes. He thinks that I've been enjoying the car the other days of the week—but have I?"

"My weekday use of the car is just like the use of any other tool of home-keeping. It's all business. In the morning I take my husband to work and meet him at night. In between I have to take the children to school, bring them home, go to market, go on the endless errands that it takes to run a home efficiently.

"But the fun of sitting behind a wheel and saying to myself: 'Now I'm going to take a drive for the joy of driving—to rest my nerves and smell the country' . . . that's what I'd like to do on Saturday."

Though the automobile has become a necessity of modern life, it is still a luxury in the best sense of the word. There is a thrill in driving for pleasure alone—in going just where you want to go—that nothing else quite equals.

Assembly Again Kills Dry Bill

Motion to Discharge Committee Needed 75 Votes But Received Only 72—Jenks Criticizes Assembly.

Albany, March 27 (AP).—By a vote of 72 to 68 the Assembly today failed to support a motion to discharge committee on the Jenks state prohibition enforcement bill. The motion needed 75 votes to prevail.

The killing of the enforcement bill took less than 20 minutes. The sponsor, Edmund B. Jenks of Broome, veteran dry leader, made the only speech and this was on the merits of the motion rather than on the bill itself. He criticized the members for recommitting his bill some time ago in his unavoidable absence and urged them to bring it out again on the floor where it could have a fair debate.

Fifteen Republicans voted against discharge. One, McKay of Monroe, was absent. Those of the majority who voted against bringing the bill out of committee were:

Bernhardt of Erie; Borkowitz of Erie; W. E. Condon of Westchester; Dickey of Erie; Garnjost of Westchester; Gimbrome of Erie; Grenthal of New York; Lefkowitz of New York; Moffatt of New York; Nicoll of Seneca; Pammeter of Monroe; Richtmayer of Montgomery; Shook of Westchester; R. Rotary Requests Supervisors to Act

Kingston Rotary Club at its luncheon this week welcomed A. R. Newcombe, just returned from spending eight weeks in Florida, glad to get back and bringing with him a record of 100 per cent Rotary attendance while away. Vincent Stratton, president of the Albany Rotary Club, was the speaker. He set forth in detail the prospective glories of a trip to Dallas to attend the annual convention of Rotary International in May and June.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the club:

WHEREAS: The highway route north and south on the east side of the Hudson river is now complete, and

WHEREAS: The automobile highway known as "9-W" is at present in deplorable condition besides being obsolete in type and unsuited to modern automobile requirements, and

WHEREAS: The State Department of Highways has prepared a map of a new route for this highway extending from the southern line of Ulster county to the northern end of said county. Highway officials have stated that it is prepared to advertise for bids for construction as soon as the Ulster county board of supervisors obtains the rights of way for property required for said new highway.

Therefore be it
RESOLVED: That the Kingston Rotary Club does hereby request the board of supervisors of Ulster county to promptly take the necessary steps to cooperate with the State Department of Highways in securing for this section the improved highway on route "9-W" as outlined in map of proposed highway submitted by the State Department. We believe that this is a vital and necessary improvement, that its urgency fully justifies the county in incurring the necessary expense and that any further unnecessary delay will react adversely on the business interests, comfort and safety of the entire population of the county.

Bishop Brent Dies In Switzerland

Buffalo, March 27 (AP).—News of the sudden death in Lausanne, Switzerland, of Bishop Charles Henry Brent of the Episcopal diocese of Western New York was received in a cablegram today by Bishop Coadjutor David Lincoln Ferris of Rochester, from Ambassador Alanson B. Houghton at London, England.

Ambassador Houghton said: "Have just received word that Bishop Brent died peacefully at Lausanne, Switzerland. He left here a week ago in high spirits and appeared well restored to health. I share with you and the diocese and all who knew him personal sorrow at this irreparable loss."

The mode steps out smartly in shoes that bear a most important part in the success of the ensemble. No longer are shoes chosen carelessly—now each pair must bear some definite relation to the costume it accompanies.

COATS and SUITS

FOR THE EASTER PARADE

In this collection, especially assembled for Easter selection, are coats and suits that represent the new mode in its finest phases. Smart lines, beautiful materials, perfect tailoring all contribute to make this apparel most attractive and desirable.

Tweed, Woolens in Ombre

Stripes, Kasha, Cheviot

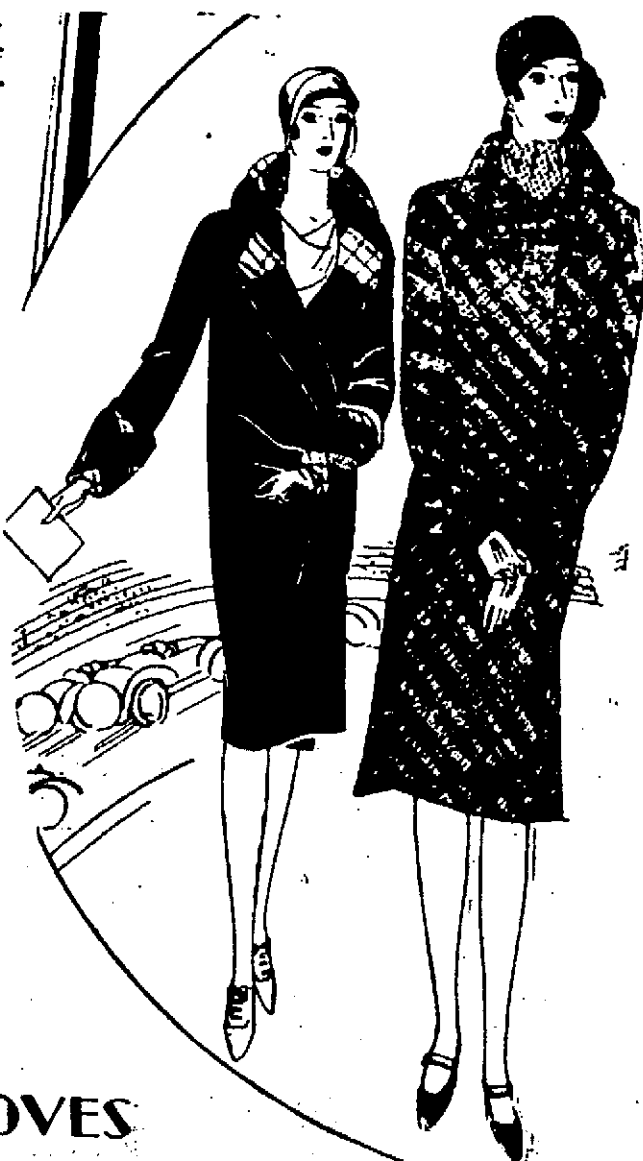

Make the Smart Coats

Some of the coats have scarf collars of the fabric or some flat smooth fur. Others have notched collars or are in tuxedo effect. In many cases the selvedge is cleverly used as trimming. Many of the models are finished with tailored stitching.

The New Ensembles

$10.97 to $16.97, $25.00

Coats are long or short with equal smartness in the new ensembles. Frocks to accompany them are of the same or contrasting materials. Flares are introduced in clever ways, or the coats hang straight from the shoulder. The dresses are usually smart—some of plain or printed silk.

THE CHOICE OF THE SMART GORDON SILK HOSE

Do you prefer the V-Line or the Narrow Heel?

Most women seem to discover a need for both types:

The Gordon V-Line— with the shapely tapering shadows on either side of the ankle — is beautifying beyond a doubt. For it was designed by an artist to repeat in silk the natural shadows of the ankle.

The Gordon Narrow Heel — leaves almost the entire ankle clad in sheer silk... and yet gives the necessary reinforcement. This is especially attractive for street and daytime wear.

And the new Gordon colors... not only the costume but the woman herself is considered! They are planned to match skin tones (whether pale or sun-tanned) — distinctly a modern note in colors.

Child Health Day

Washington, March 27 (AP).—President Hoover has issued a proclamation designating May 1 as child health day. The document declared "the good health and protection of childhood is fundamental to national welfare."

It invited "the people of the United States and all agencies and organizations interested in this most important subject to make every reasonable effort to bring about a nationwide understanding of the fundamental significance of healthy childhood, and of the importance of the conservation of the health and physical vigor of our boys and girls."

She Forgot the "R"

The high school teacher was new to the East and the pupils had not yet decided whether to like her or not. They held informal meetings to discuss her from every high school pupil angle. Her clothes, her looks and the way she applied the lipstick all came in for searching analysis.

They had almost made up their minds to permit her to stay when one of the members of the English class raised her voice in protest.

"She dresses fairly well," she said, "and her make-up isn't so bad. But her pronunciation is simply awful. She comes from the Middle West and she never pronounces the 'r' in words like 'dear.'"

Hint for Dog Lovers

These aristocratic dogs whose prices go up in the hundreds and sometimes thousands of dollars receive the very best of care—and food. The food they eat largely determines their appearance, and their appearance wins them prizes at dog shows. And what do the kennel owners like to feed their dogs? In many cases canned dog foods, the basis of which is usually meat mixed with barley or some other cereal and some cod liver oil. The mixture is put into tin cans, sterilized just as carefully as if it were for human consumption, and then it is ready for the fastidious dog kings.

Where Monks Farmed

The historic estate of Vale Royal in England, a portion of which is being placed on the market, includes the bulk of the lands anciently farmed by the monks of Vale Royal Abbey, once a mighty house of the Cistercian order. The monks of the Cistercian order, the eight hundredth anniversary of whose coming to England was celebrated, have been called the greatest farmers to medieval England, and no doubt the development of English husbandry was to a large extent due to them. At the dissolution the abbey was laid in ruins.

Bottles Drift Far

Bottled paper, thrown overboard at sea to study ocean drift, is printed at the navy hydrographic office in eight languages. This paper is placed in a bottle, sealed, and thrown overboard and has been known to drift from 5 to 5,000 miles, having been in the water from six days to six years. One bottle was thrown in the water at Cape Good Hope, Africa, and recovered on the west coast of Chile, South America, having drifted 8,800 miles. Another was thrown overboard off Cape Horn, southernmost point of the South American mainland, and drifted to New Zealand, a distance of about 10,250 miles.

New York, March 27 (AP).—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets)—Fresh string beans receipts from Florida were moderate on the wholesale market today. Quality generally was poor and demand was slow at $1.00-$1.40 per seven-eighths bushel hamper for wax and green varieties. Good to fancy offerings, however, brought $5.00-$7.00.

Last week Florida started 113 carloads of string beans to city markets, against 40 during the corresponding 1928 week.

California iceberg lettuce of good quality sold readily. Supplies were moderate. Crates of four dozen heads brought $4.00-$5.50, while crates of five dozen heads realized $3.50-$4.50.

Of 136 carloads of lettuce received last week, California contributed 120. Sources of supply of Big Boston were Florida, South Carolina, Georgia, Texas and New Jersey.

The market on new crop bunched beets was dull. Carrots were a trifle firmer. Supplies were moderate. Sales on Texas carrots were at $2.50-$3.00, occasionally $3.25, per crate and on beets, $1.75-$2.25, rarely $2.50.

Receipts of New York barreled and basket apples were moderate. Trading was slow. A large percentage of this morning's supply were ordinary and in many instances showed considerable scald. Sales on that account varied greatly. The market on western boxed apples was steady to firm on fancy, but dull and weaker on common stock. Wholesale business on Washington Winesap apples was at $2.30-$2.90 per bushel box. Rome Beauties brought $1.90-$2.85 and Delicious $2.20-$4.20. Montana McIntosh sold at $2.15-$3.35.

Lighter receipts of Florida new crop potatoes resulted in higher prices. Barrels of No. 1 Spaulding Rose changed hands at $6.75-$7.00.

The market on old crop potatoes was rather dull, although price changes were small. Liberal supplies were available at most terminals.

Southern new crop cabbage was in moderate receipt. Trading was light and the price trend slightly lower. Demand for New York state old crop white Danish was limited and values declined.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH SERVICES

The following services will be held this Holy Week at Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets. The pastor, the Rev. William M. Pretzsch, will preach at all the services.

Holy Thursday night at 8 o'clock, English service with sermon theme: "The Holy Supper." Instituted by Christ to strengthen the faith of the communicant and to remind the same to receive worthily. The Lord's Supper will be celebrated at this service.

Good Friday morning at 10:30, German service with preaching and the Holy Communion.

Good Friday afternoon from 2 to 3 o'clock, a special service for the Sunday school children in the church.

All children are invited to spend Christ's last hour on the cross in due devotion in church. All adults are also invited.

Good Friday night at 8, English service with sermon theme: "Christ died for all and not for all; for many and not for many; for some (and not for some)." Holy Communion at this service also.

A cordial invitation is extended all to attend each of the services. Strangers are always welcome.

There will be no services tonight.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ACTIVITIES

At the 7:45 Thursday evening service at the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf street, Dr. Cady will speak on "Christ's Words from the Cross." All are invited.

A Good Friday service will be held for beginners, primaries and juniors. The juniors will assemble at 2:30 and the others at 3.

At the Sunday morning service an augmented choir will sing special Easter music. The church will be decorated with lilies given in memory of loved ones.

At 7 o'clock on Sunday the Sunday school will present an Easter cantata entitled "Voices from the Garden." More than forty will take special parts and the whole school will sing Easter songs. The service will close with a tableau representing the angel and the women at the tomb.

Food Sale Saturday.

A food sale for the benefit of St. John's Church School will be held at Van Wagenen's store, Wall street, Saturday, starting at 2 p. m.

Rev. F. H. Neal's Pastorates. The Rev. Frank H. Neal, who has been invited to become, with the approval of the presiding bishop of the New York Conference, the new pastor of St. James M. E. How Weak Nervous Women Grow Stronger

Feel Better, Look Younger and Have Steadier Nerves

If you only knew—you rundown, anemic women—who are dragging yourself around on your "nerves"—what a wonderful increase in strength and health Tanlac will give you, you wouldn't hesitate a moment about going to your druggist and getting a big bottle of this splendid medicine.

Mrs. Garner C. Thompson, of 26 Grand View Terrace, Rochester, N. Y., says: "I was subject to bilious spells and sick headaches. My blood was thin and my food wouldn't digest. After six bottles of Tanlac, my sick headaches are gone, my appetite is very good and I have gained 14 lbs."

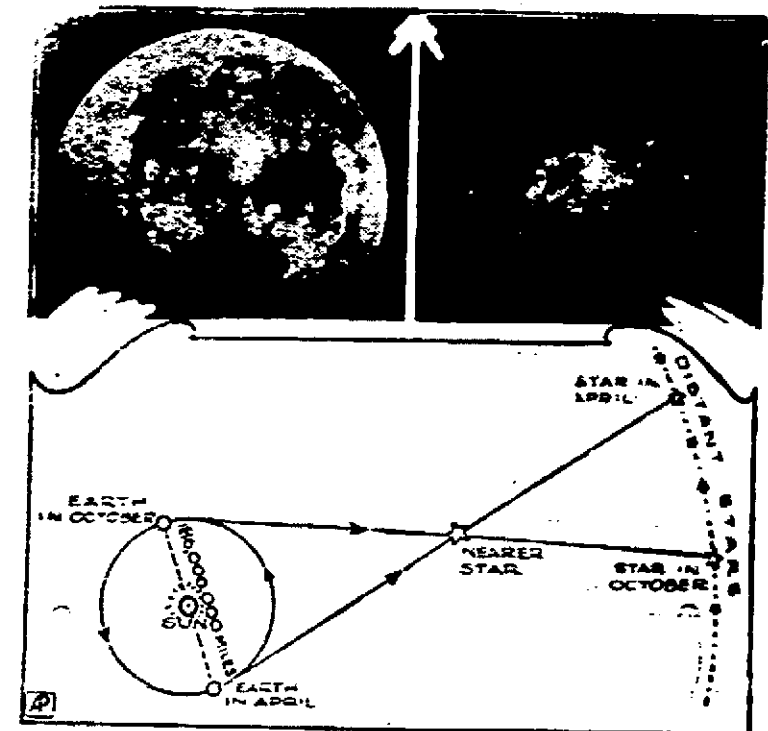

Tanlac is as free from harmful drugs as the water you drink—only Nature's own medicinal tonic herbs. Druggists know this and for the past 10 years have recommended it to men and women who need a quick "pick up" that will put them on their feet and give them a new interest in life.

So confident are the makers of Tanlac that if you are not helped by it, you get your money back on request.

April: Distances Of The Stars

The nearer stars are measured by studying the angles of their light. Above left: the moon, 1.3 seconds away at light's speed. Right: nearest spiral nebula, one million light-years distant. Below: diagram of light lines astronomers measure for distances.

By ROBERT H. BAKER
(Professor of Astronomy, University of Illinois.)

Urbana, Ill. (AP).—If it were possible to travel through space as fast as a ray of light travels, we could reach the moon in 1.3 seconds. If the journey were continued at this high speed without a stop anywhere, we could pass by the nearest star in four and one-third years.

April is as good a month as any for beginning the trip. Suppose we take off some morning toward the south. The daylight will not interfere, for in an instant we shall be above the atmosphere, where the stars are always visible.

After four hours the most remote planet, Neptune, is passed; but for the first four or five days we still are in the outskirts of the solar system. Out here the great comets spend most of their time cruising leisurely far from the sun.

The nearest star is called Proxima. Viewed from the earth it is so dim that a telescope is needed in order to see it. Not far beyond this star is Alpha Centauri, which, until recently, was thought to be the nearest star. As we approach Alpha Centauri, it becomes more and more like the sun, while the sun far behind us appears as a bright star and the planets have shrunk to invisibility.

Continuing the journey we pass by a star every three or four years. Occasionally we plunge through an enormous cloud of dark cosmic stuff. These cosmic clouds are the cause of the great rifts and "coal sacks" in the Milky way; they hide almost completely from the earth the view of the center of our stellar system. Finally, as we emerge from one of these clouds, we can see far ahead this great aggregation of possibly as many as 50,000 million stars, which forms the hub of the stellar system. It will take us 50,000 years in all to reach the center.

Another jump of 100,000 years takes us to the far edge of our own stellar system. A million years will have elapsed by the time we have reached the next system of stars—the nearest spiral nebula. Then the trip across the universe will be well started. We have now traveled, with the speed of light, only as far as we can see from the earth with the naked eye.

The direct means of measuring the distances of the stars is to observe with the telescope the slight shifting of nearer stars against the background of the more distant ones, as the earth makes its annual circuit of the sun. The nearer the star, the greater its apparent shift. But the shift is always very small.

If we represent the earth's great orbit by the circumference of a period on this page, the nearest star on this scale is 15 yards away. The astronomer's problem is to measure the difference in the star's direction when the middle of the telescope is moved from one edge of this little dot to the other. This is the easiest case.

The distances of 2,000 of the nearer stars are known as the result of this procedure. But for the billions of stars that lie beyond the method fails. In less direct ways, however, astronomers are succeeding in sounding the depths of the universe.

Two Men Killed in Gibbetown Blast

Gibbetown, N. J., March 27 (A).—With windows in nearly every building in the town shattered by a nitro-glycerine explosion yesterday at the DuPont powder plant near here, Gibbetown today presented the appearance of having been shelled by an enemy army. The town has a population of more than 1,500.

Two workmen were killed and two injured by the terrific blast, which rocked towns within a radius of fifty miles.

Three thousand pounds of the powerful explosive, which is used in the manufacture of dynamite, went off. Several children in the public school here were buried from their seats and injured. Others were cut by flying glass. Many windows were broken in Paulsboro, two miles away, and some windows were shattered in Philadelphia, 18 miles distant.

There was nothing left of the small frame building in which the explosion occurred. The bodies of the two men killed, John Kern, 55, and Luigi Pizzigrilli, 23, were mangled almost beyond recognition. Several other buildings at the plant were damaged. The property loss was estimated at about $20,000.

An investigation was under way, but officials of the DuPont Powder Company said the cause of the explosion probably would never be known, as Kern was the only man in the nitro-glycerine building at the time. Pizzigrilli was some distance away.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, March 27.—Mrs. Hiram T. Van Wort of Salem street, who has been ill, is improving under the care of Dr. G. W. Ross.

The Dorcas Society will be entertained this evening at the home of Mrs. Scott Vining on Bayard street. Mrs. Lester Ferguson and Mrs. Vining will be the hostesses of the evening. All members are urged to be present.

Holy Week is being observed in the Reformed and Methodist churches. This evening there will be a meeting in the Reformed Church at 7:30, the Rev. Frederick Baker, pastor of the Methodist Church, in charge. Everybody welcome.

Lucretia Rebekah Lodge will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in its rooms in Odd Fellows' Hall in Ulster Park.

The last game of basketball for the season will be played Thursday night in Pythian Hall. There will be three games.

Mr. and Mrs. Alanson W. Short have rented the upper flat of Mr. and Mrs. David Harris on Bayard street.

Herbert Christian is building an addition to his residence on Green street. Charles Niese, contractor and builder, has the contract to do the work.

SERVICES AT ALBANY AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH.
The mid-week service at the Albany Avenue Baptist Church on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock will be one of a number of special services held at the Easter season. The topic will be "The Mother of Jesus at the Cross." Before the meeting at 7 o'clock, all who desire to unite with the church at this time, are asked to meet with the pastor and deacons.

On Friday evening the annual Good Friday service will be held at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor will speak on the topic, "Faith and the Inevitable," and the choir will take part in the program.

On Easter Sunday special services will be held both morning and evening with an enlarged musical program by an augmented choir. A printed program will be handed to all worshippers as they enter the church. The pastor will preach at the morning service on the topic, "Christ's Easter Salutation." The subject of the evening sermon will be "The Resurrection Philosophy of Life."

By with axes and when the fill is completed the pipe line to be laid will be covered by a fill to the depth of 15 feet.

All three bids were referred to the street committee to ascertain which piping material would be the best to lay at that point.

Trolley to Repair Track.
The Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company asked for permission to make repairs to the track on St. James street, which was granted.

To Move Building.
L. G. Burbans of 157 Lucas avenue asked permission to move a building from 155 Albany avenue to his home on Lucas avenue. The request was referred to the city engineer and superintendent.

Want Electric Signs.
Helen B. Walsh, who is now with the May McAvoy beauty parlors at 269 Wall street, asked permission to install an electric sign in front of the entrance to the parlors. It was referred to Superintendent Mills with power.

The same action was taken in the request of George N. Brown to remove an electric sign from the Broadway Theatre building to his new location across the street at 608 Broadway. The request to install an electric sign for Mrs. E. Owens at 555 Broadway, and Fred Scharp to install a sign in front of his garage on West Union street.

Bills and Claims.
Bills and claims were read and referred to the auditing committee and the board then adjourned.

Largest Electric Lamp
A 50,000-watt experimental bulb made recently is said to be the world's largest electric lamp. It resembles a wireless valve, and at the top of the bulb a metal fin radiator carries off intense heat generated by the white-hot tungsten filament, which has a temperature of 5,500 degrees Fahrenheit. The lamp is cooled by the circulation of the nitrogen with which it is filled.

Such huge lights may ultimately find use in aerodromes and film studios.

Advice
A farmer who had subdivided his acres complained to a friend, "I can't get any turnover on my real estate." The response was prompt.

PLEASE TELL MY WIFE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I wish that you would see my wife. And tell her that I love her. A thing, these later years of life, I hope that she'd discover. 'Twas quite an easy thing to say. The way that youth would view it. But now we both are getting gray. I just can't seem to do it.

I wish that you would write a line. Would send my wife a letter. And kindly tell this wife of mine I really love her better. Than in the days of twenty-one. And thought, of course, she knew it. I think it really should be done. I wish that you would do it.

I wish you'd do that much for me: It's really very easy: Just write a line, or come to see, Adopt a manner breezy. Just say, "He loves you," just like that; There's really nothing to it. There's nothing to be frightened at— But I can't seem to do it. (© 1925, Douglas Malloch)

Why We Do What We Do

By M. E. THOMSON, Ph. D.

WHY WE ASK EVERY SUCCESSFUL MAN THE SECRET OF HIS SUCCESS.

EVERY successful man is besieged by admirers who are eager to learn the secret of his success. His success may consist of any outstanding achievement.

A prominent citizen who reaches the ripe age of four score years is approached on each succeeding birthday by a corps of newspaper men and bombarded with questions calculated to uncover the secret of his long life. He is supposed to know what made him live so long.

Magazines that feature the life story of successful men in business have a tremendous circulation. People are eager to learn the secret of success. The ideal magazine hero starts life in a log cabin and rises to be a merchant prince, a financial giant. The implication is that if he could do it with no education and no friends, how much better off you and I are with at least a fair start.

Nothing succeeds like success. We admire and envy the successful man because we too, would like to be successful.

garded as a success. We like to read of such people because it has inspirational value. We naively assume that if we get hold of the secret, we too, may be as successful. This is because we feel that possibly if we had the right password and could pull the right wires we have enough native ability to get there.

We want to know the secret of the great man's greatness not only that we might also become great by following the same methods, but also because we are curious to know the ins and outs of a colorful career. This interest is very much on the curiosity we have in knowing how to solve a puzzle or a riddle. It answers the perpetual question, "How do they do it?"

We try and fail and then wonder how others succeed. We conclude that either they are made of different clay or else they have some special secret. We hope it is due to some secret and not to superior native ability; hence the eagerness to inquire of every successful man the secret of his success. (© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

SUPERSTITIOUS SUE

SHE HAS HEARD THAT—
The stunt of ducking for apples in a tub of water is not only a giggle game and a fun producer, but it rates the sheik who fishes for pippins with his mouth—if he's afraid of his "stay-comb" and gives up easily, he's a wet match and will never set anything on fire, but if he is persistent and finally hooks one, it's a sign he's a "go-getter" and, in the game of love and life, he "wins." Haver Wins First Case in Court

N. LeVan Haver, who was admitted to the bar recently after completing his course at the Albany Law School, is receiving congratulations from his friends over the outcome of his first case tried before the Supreme court. On Tuesday Mr. Haver, appearing for Henry Mencher, plaintiff, in an action for damages to his road, won for his client a verdict in the sum of $1,100. The action was brought against Eugene Dazette, who was alleged to have operated his car in a negligent manner, causing damage to the plaintiff's car at Ashokan on September 5 last. Damages to the plaintiff's car amounting to $500 were sought and also a sum of money to compensate him for injuries which he sustained and which he claimed to be sustained at the time of the accident. The action was brought to recover $3,500.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feed your body—there's no need of having a yellow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—puffy eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for cod liver oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 20c and 60c.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

ONE'S COMPLEXION IS REAK-ONED AS PART OF ONE'S ENSEMBLE

New York—Close cooperation between fashion and beauty experts is one of the outstanding features of this color-mad season. The complexion has become a factor in the ensemble, and women are taking their sun-tanned skins into consideration in choosing colors for their spring and summer costumes.

Costumes in which two colors are combined are far more fashionable at the moment than those which are designed in one tone. This broad and sweeping statement is equally true no matter what type of costume is under discussion. Evening dresses in two tones have become a conspicuous feature of the spring.

Reversible coats are one way of employing two colors and many of the smart ensembles for spring have coats which may be worn either way about. Costumes suggestive of the skirt and blouse idea are very general, the dividing line in color coming nearer and nearer to the normal waistline which of course enhances the shirt waist and skirt suggestion.

The age-old combination of navy and white has been emphasized in this season's imports, and now that spring is at hand, navy is met with on all sides. It is one of the most approved coat colors while any number of plain and printed frocks are being worn in the lighter navy tones. Navy shirt waist frocks with white collar and cuff details are refreshing after a long season of colorless necklines.

Important Charity

The Needlework Guild of America was organized in 1883 by a small group of women who recognized the great need for clothing in hospitals, homes and other charities. From this small beginning the work has been extended so that branches now function in forty states, the District of Columbia, Long Island and the territory of Hawaii. It has never changed its simple form of membership—the giving of two or more new garments or a sum of money.

Whale Not a Fish

A whale is a large aquatic mammal and not a fish. Though it lives in the sea and has the appearance of a fish, it is a warm-blooded animal, breathing air and not under water. Its skin is smooth and hairless, and it has a nostril opening far back in the head. The young ones are born alive and suckled like the young of other mammals. Whales may have been land animals at one time, but their adaptation to life in the water must date from the far-distant ages.

Which are the hands of the rich man's wife?

SHE NEVER WASHES DISHES... with two maids to do all the work, of course her hands are lovely and white and smooth.

SHE WASHES DISHES 3 times a day—yet her hands are as lovely as the hands of a woman of leisure. Read the secret below—

305 Famous Beauty Shops say—

"WE actually cannot distinguish between the hands of a woman of leisure and wealth—with servants to do all her work—and the hands of a woman who uses Lux in her dishpan... Lux gives real beauty care."

What a marvelous suggestion for all busy women—

"Beauty care" right in the dishpan!

And how true it is! After washing dishes with Lux your hands do look smoother and whiter and lovelier than before! Every minute they're in the gentle, sparkling Lux suds they're receiving glorious beauty care!

For Lux is different from ordinary soaps... so utterly pure, so bland, that it protects the precious beauty oils of the skin—the youth oils—keeping the hands young and lovely. Many soaps dry up these oils, giving the skin that drawn, crisscross-lined look—making the hands seem work-worn and old.

Begin using Lux in the dishpan today! Give your hands the wisest, most inexpensive beauty care known. Lux for all your dishes costs less than 1¢ a day. Lovely hands for so small a price!

Carefully selected for their fine grain and tenderness, you will find First Prize Hams the most delicious of any hams that have ever graced your table.

The scrumptious aroma and appetizing juiciness of First Prize sugar-cured ham gently smoked over hardwood from the breezeways Adirondacks will be but a pleasing foretaste of your joy in eating the tender, lean meat that is so characteristic of First Prize Hams.

Order from your Dealer today, a tender, sweet-flavored First Prize Ham for serving to the expectant folk who will gather at your Easter feast.

If you do not have a favorite recipe for baking ham—here is one that has been tested and enjoyed by thousands of First Prize enthusiasts:—

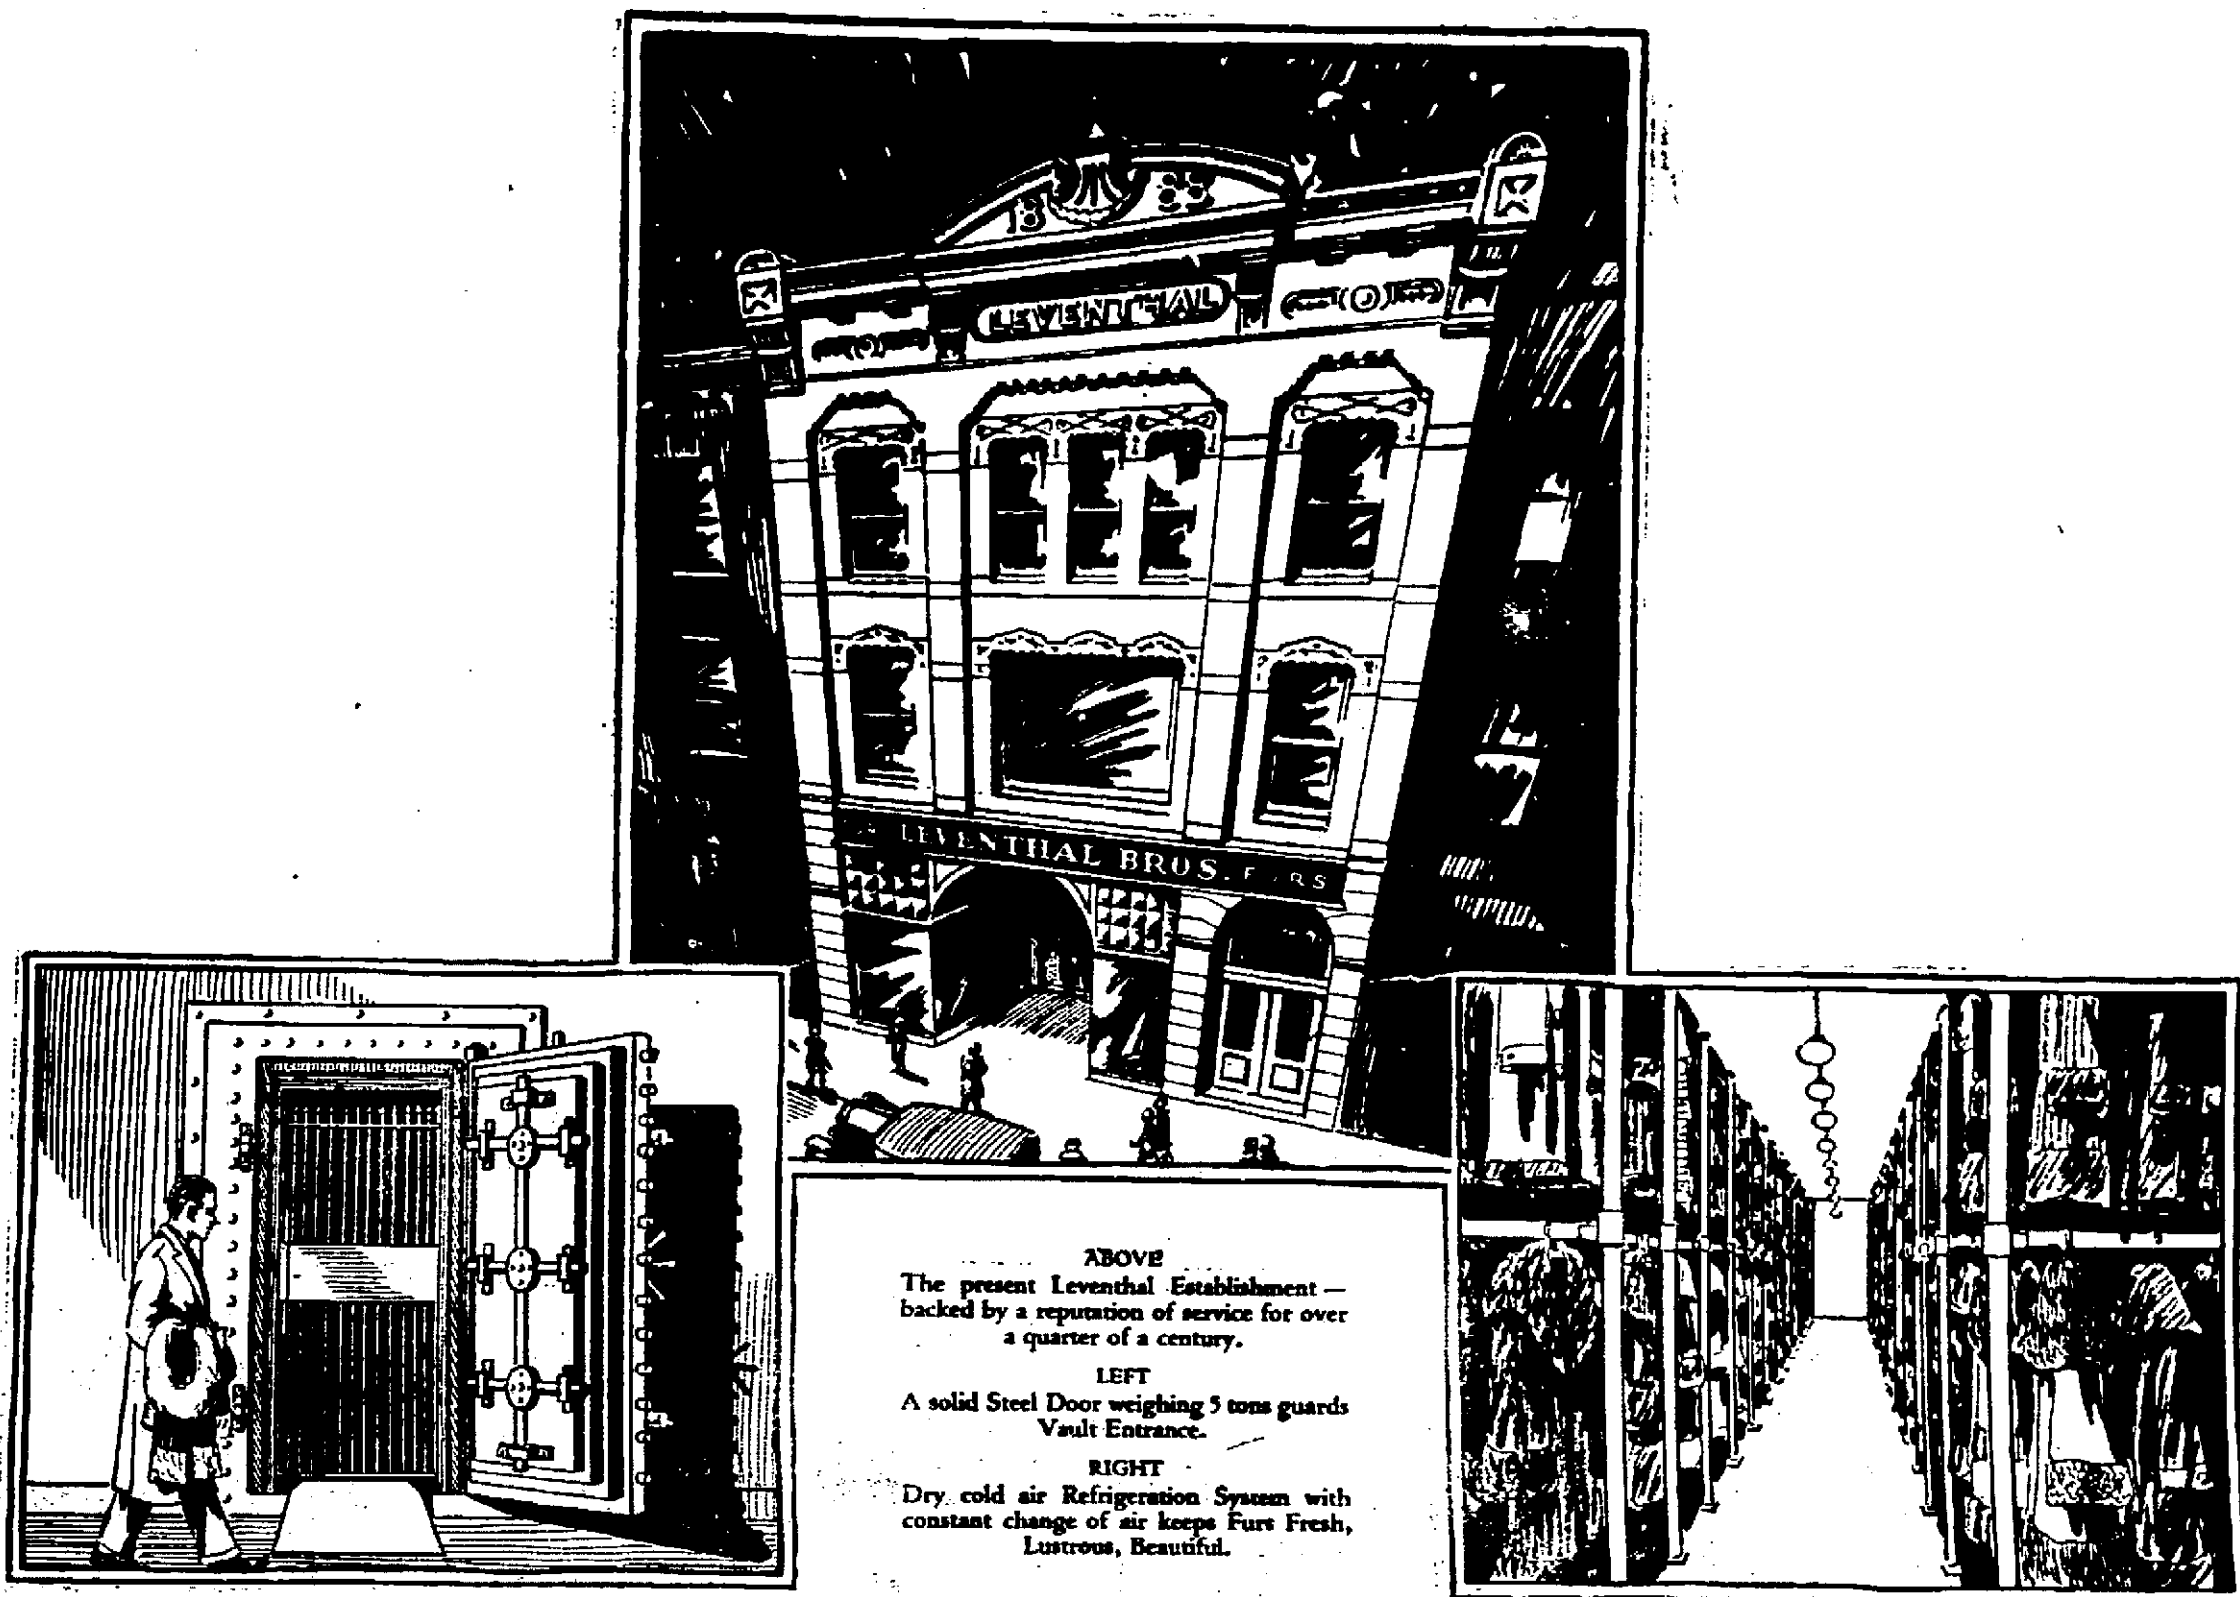

FIRST PRIZE BAKED HAM FOR YOUR EASTER DINNER.

Place ham in a kettle of cold water, bring to a boil, then simmer until tender, allowing 1 1/2 hour to the pound. Remove from kettle, place in baking pan, rind side up. Loosen up rind sufficiently to permit sprinkling fat of ham with brown sugar and placing whole cloves 1 inch apart, then cover over with rind. Mix a cup of cooking liquid with 1 cup cider or one-third cup cider vinegar, pour over ham and bake in moderate oven from 1 to 2 hours, basting often. To brown, take ham from oven, remove rind, sprinkle with bread or cracker crumbs, and return to oven for 1/2 hour, or until nicely browned.

OUR NEW COLD FUR STORAGE VAULT

The Only Fur Storage of its kind in the Hudson Valley is a

AGAINST Moths! Against Deadening Heat! Against Fire! Against Theft!

We've spent thousands of dollars to construct our new plant—a new building, entirely independent of our store—in order to give your furs 100% summer service.

Now!—there isn't the slightest excuse for crowding furs into the stifling closeness of a chest or entrusting them to the danger of a dark closet where they will be subject to sweltering heat, and the damp air of rainy summer days.

Storing your furs here is like putting them in a bank vault—plus the specialized, expert furrier's care which they need in the summer and which only our new cold fur storage plant can adequately give.

The entrance to the vault is guarded by a solid steel door weighing ten thousand pounds, constructed by the York Safe & Lock Co., the same concern which constructs the vault doors of the largest banks in the country.

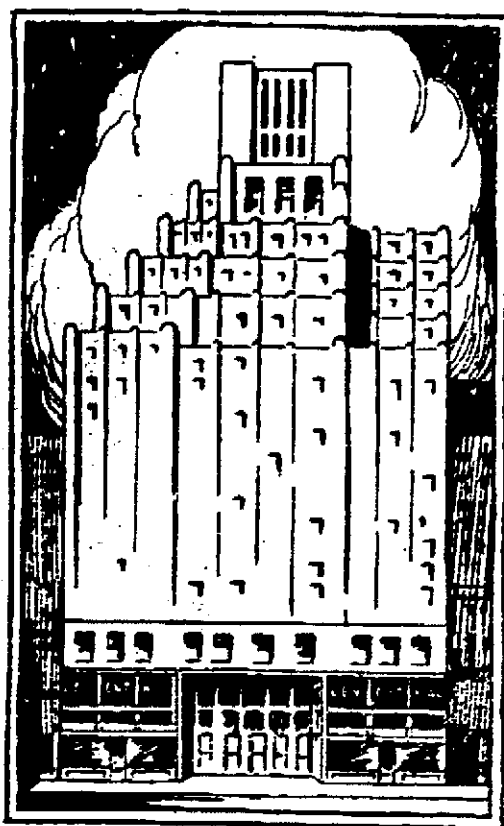

The entire vault is wholly fire proof and burglar proof. Strongest steel and concrete of which it is built makes it so!

As further protection, the A. D. T. complete protection system with its direct wire to police headquarters and outside burglar alarm has been installed.

Compare, in your own mind, these further advantages we offer with what happens to your furs if you stuff them away in some make-shift storage place at home:

SAFE STRONGHOLD

The Leventhal Bros. factory and showrooms in New York City.

Every fur, before it is placed in our vault, is thoroughly cleansed of dust and grit by our special electrical and compressed air process—at no additional charge.

Our dry, cold air refrigeration system—the only one of its kind in the Hudson Valley!—preserves the natural oils in the pelts. No heat can enter to dry your fur when it is in our vaults—to stiffen or crack the pelts.

This ice cold air changes constantly. Your fur on its special hanger with plenty of room for this air to circulate is kept fresh, lustrous, sweet. Its vitality and beauty are restored.

It will come back to you in the fall—renewed in loveliness, renewed in durability!

Give your furs, this season, the best fur storage care in existence.

We offer you this service—as we have been privileged to offer our well-known furrier's services for over 1/4 of a century—at a very moderate rate.

2 1/2 %

of the valuation placed on your furs

No matter where you bought your fur—or when you bought it—we shall gladly take care of it.

Motorists Must Be Responsible

Albany, N. Y., March 27.—The Fearon-Stone Safety Responsibility bill which has just passed both houses of the legislature is regarded by the new York State Automobile Club as one of the most important and constructive measures the legislature has passed this year.

These are salient features of the Fearon-Stone bill:

When a person has been convicted of having caused injury to person or property through reckless driving, excessive speed or driving while intoxicated, his license and registration certificates are suspended until such time as he furnishes the commissioner of motor vehicles proof of his ability to compensate those he may injure or whose property he may damage in the future.

Also, any judgment rendered against the reckless driver for injuries or property damage must be settled and failure to satisfy a judgment is grounds for suspension of license.

JUDGE CLEARWATER TELLS HENRY FORD ABOUT BARKERS.

Henry Ford writes Judge Clearwater, president of the trustees of the Senate House Association, that he recently has received for his collection of American antiquities at his Museum at Dearborn, Michigan, several dishes in the form of earthenware mounds, resembling the lamps exhumed from Roman tombs, and that he would like to know if they were of Dutch origin.

The judge in answer said that they were of Dutch origin and commonly used by the Dutch settlers of the waters of the Hudson and the Mohawk; that both his grandmothers continued to use them during his boyhood; that the ancient system of looking was an oven protruding from the exterior of the house in which a fire of hard wood, usually hickory or oak, was made. When this had burned to a cinder, it was raked out and bread, pie, cake, turkey, chickens, pigeons, ducks, geese, partridges and quail were placed in the hot oven and thoroughly cooked. That the earthen mounds of which Mr. Ford wrote were called "barkies" and were used as receptacles for puddings and custards, which could not well be their original condition, he placed in the oven. They were succeeded by what were called "barkies" but the older housewives preferred to use the Dutch "barkies."

The judge said that frequently a boy he had eaten a fine custard from a bowl which had been in his grandmother's family for many years.

The Laurel By the ancient Greeks the laurel was called "daphne" and was sacred to Apollo. Berry-bearing twigs of it were wound round the foreheads of victorious heroes and poets; and in later times the degree of doctor was conferred with this ceremony, whence the term " laurea."

POULTRY FACTS

CLEAN AND SPRAY TO CONTROL LICE

Preventive Measures Should Be Taken Before Summer.

Surveys, made by the poultry department of the North Carolina State college, show that more than 58 per cent of all poultry flocks in North Carolina are infested with either lice or mites.

These pests multiply very quickly during the hot months and for that reason control measures should be taken before the summer sets in," says Dr. B. F. Kaupp, head of the department. "The henhouse should be given a thorough cleaning with a 4 per cent coal tar dip. All cracks and crevices should be sprayed and the perches painted with a pure dip or creosote. New scratch litter and nesting material should be put in before the hens are allowed to use the house. If these precautions are not taken, the sitting hen will be killed and the small chicks will weaken and die."

The adult fowl should be dusted with sodium fluoride. This should be used sparingly as there is some danger of injuring the skin. A pinch of the material should be held between the thumb and finger and worked among the feathers. This operation should be continued until the entire body has been covered, and should be repeated in five days if all the lice were not killed.

All brooder houses, henhouses or any place that the chickens roost should be gone over with the 4 per cent solution of coal tar and where possible the hens transferred to another house during the cleaning.

Doctor Kaupp recommends that new houses be built, especially where the old houses have been in use over a long period and are thoroughly infested with the pests. The old houses should then be torn down and burned, he says.

More Hopper Space for Feeding Fowls Is Urged

To enable all the hens to obtain plenty of laying mash it pays to allow ten feet of hopper feeding space to each 100 hens. A five-foot trough hopper open on both sides gives good satisfaction. These open hoppers built up on a little platform to keep out the straw litter are proving more popular than wall hoppers, and some poultry men are tearing out their wall hoppers and installing the long open boxes. Then the mash does not clog and is plainly visible to the hens. If the wall hoppers remain they can be used as a reserve supply and mash taken from them and added to the open hoppers as the supply needs replenishment.

Eliminate Tuberculosis From Chicken Quarters

Fortunately with poultry the disease is not difficult to control. It should be remembered that the disease is confined to very old birds. Birds under a year old are seldom infected. By maintaining a flock in which the number of old birds has been kept at a low figure the danger of infection is reduced. If, however, the premises are badly infected the house and yards should be given a rest for two years. The house can be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, and then be used, but to eliminate tuberculosis from the yards the resting of the yards is necessary. During the resting of the yards their cultivation is desirable.

Actions of Guineas

A guinea will usually build her nest in the edge of a briar patch or under a clump of weeds, and while on the nest will cackle a soft and long cackle similar to the male bird, but not so loud. The male bird often stands near the nest and cackles while the hen is on the nest. When the hen gets a large number of eggs, she will get broody and go to sitting on them. If she is not broken up. When she goes to sitting she rises and flies from her nest when she comes off.

Direct Sunlight Best

Direct sunlight promotes health and egg production. Sunlight through ordinary window glass is ineffective. Only direct sunlight or sunlight which passes through special glass or glass substitutes, which will permit the ultra-violet rays to pass through, is beneficial.

Direct sunlight or its equivalent aids in maintenance of health, reduces mortality, increases egg production and improves hatchability and quality of eggs, especially egg-shell texture.

Feeds for Poultry

For poultry feeding, the right kind of protein is generally obtained from milk, skim milk, buttermilk, whey, yeast, meat scrap, fish scrap, truckage, or alfalfa leaf meal feeds. Very little of it is found in the common farm feeds, and for this reason when home-grown grains are used, it is necessary to purchase small amounts of the high protein feeds to supplement the home-grown grains. None of any kind is the most popular protein feed for poultry.

Meeting to Form Horseshoe Club

There will be a meeting at the M. C. A. Thursday evening at 8:30 for the purpose of forming a horseshoe pitching club, to be known as the Kingston Horseshoe Club. At this meeting, to which anyone is invited, "barnyard golf" is well known, officers will be elected for the coming season and a form of constitution drawn up. Anyone interested in joining the club is cordially invited to attend the meeting and take part in the election of officers and any other business which may come up, the eligibility rule being an interest in the game.

The club plans to have games each Saturday afternoon at Forsyth Park, where, according to Frank DuPont, the veteran barnyard golfer, there is the best horseshoe pitching court in the state.

Election at Catskill.

In one of the most spirited elections ever held in Catskill Tuesday two Democrats, Charles Loveland and Gordon H. Decker, defeated George E. Flowers to Rule in Spring Styles

Frocks, Coats and Millinery Are Embellished With Gay Clusters.

All the poetry and beauty of spring are reflected in the styles as they are presented in the fashion review and private collections. In every phase of dress the keynote is flowers, with which designers are expressing that feminine quality which is now so strongly emphasized, says a fashion writer in the New York Times. The hope of the fashion directors of Paris to restore the flower and needlework industries seems suddenly to be realized in this year's spring styles. Gowns, coats and millinery are blossoming with flowers used in ways that are both quaint and unique, and needlework of many kinds is introduced to embellish dress for daytime and evening. Evening gowns are trimmed with graceful garnitures of French flowers, ensembles for afternoon are embellished with sprays and clusters of blossoms that repeat the fabric colors, and a boutonniere is fastened on every sports suit and coat. Even the rainy-day outfit is touched up with a rubber flower, and some sort of nosegay is pinned on the coat of the latest pajamas.

It is in evening dress that the flower motif is most charmingly illustrated, and in all of the spring collections are shown delightful gowns for evening that are simply "dripping" with flowers. Parisian and American designers are trimming their evening gowns extravagantly with flowers, using them in garlands and festoons, literally by the yard, or devising entirely new arrangements in which single flowers are placed to point up and give distinction to a costume. Some of these models are refreshingly original. One is a gown of pale-blue chiffon made with the goods caught up and held about the hips by a garland of large chiffon flowers in soft shades of peach and rose, with which the drapery is lifted in front. This has a festive, semi-barbaric look that is most decorative. On another gown of pale green chiffon, very slim and supple, large magnolia blossoms are fastened singly to catch up the drapery, beginning on one hip and making great beauty spots at even spaces downward and partly across the front. In each of these gowns the flowers are placed only on the skirts of the dress, the bodice being plain.

Flowers on sheer material. Flowers are used most pictorially on evening gowns of sheer stuffs—tulle, chiffon, nylon, marquisette, will-o-the-wisp—a new, illustrative lovely chiffon. Tulle and artificial flowers were long ago "married," as the French say, illustrated in countless fairy-like creations. Each season brings different variants of the same combination—clouds of frothy tulle, in layers, deep-bounced or in many crisp folds, ornamented with trailing garnitures, delicate sprays or tiny nosegays. There is no limit to the variety of floral elaboration, though no com-ination has ever been as happy in effect as that of flowers in all of the natural tones against a background of tulle in plain colors.

In these some of the conventional creations hold their own in favor among the later styles, and two dance frocks of quaint loveliness have just been imported from the Paris studio of Magdelene des Hayes. One of white tulle, made with many skirts one over the other, gathering wide, with downward clip at the back, has a plain softly draped bodice of white satin. At one side of the waist is fastened a long spray of flowers, a full-blown pink rose at the top, with forget-me-nots, rosebuds, a bit of purple, scarlet and light green interspersed, with here and there a few snowdrops. Around the white satin petticoat a silver ribbon is caught above the hemline, gleaming faintly through the misty tulle.

The companion of this dresden shepherdess frock is one of pale yellow tulle over yellow tulle, the several skirts dipping in irregular pools around the bottom. The tulle bodice has a scarf of tulle attached to one shoulder, with a bunch of purple violets tied with silver ribbon, and a spray of the ribbon trailing down.

are placed at one side of the belt line, forming a garniture that reaches almost to the hem of the gown. These flower-trimmed dance frocks, like all of the latest models in tulle, are made with a very long waistline. The bodice skirts are placed low on the bodice and are several inches longer than the skirts of last year, almost sweeping the floor.

Flower-Trimmed Dance Frocks.

Because the flower-trimmed dance frock is the ideal for youthful evening dress, couturiers abroad and dressmakers on this side give special attention to the creation of this type in many delightful models. The old-fashioned pinks and blues and whites, the forget-me-not and rosebud frocks are translated in modernistic terms of midnight blue, forest greens and browns, vivid greens, yellows and reds and in many unobtrusive colors. In introducing the colors that have heretofore been identified as belonging to daylight, the designers are giving us a style of dress that is subtle, artistic and in the highest degree chic—which the obvious is no longer considered to be. Effects are achieved by combining somber color combinations and by laying material of one shade upon that of another. A gentle sort of gown is built of tulle, one wide skirt of brown tulle upon another of lighter tone, down to a golden tint, all over a slip of gold-colored tulle, shot with yellow. Another composition equally intriguing is created with jade green tulle over silver, with a bodice of the tulle used flat, in two thicknesses, silver ribbon and a garniture of green orchids. An attractive evening gown is made of tulle in yellows from light lemon to burned orange, the shades graduated in ruffles from belt to hem and elaborated with clusters of nasturtiums.

Garden Flowers Add Charm to New Ensemble for Spring.

Of the other sheer stuffs which are so fashionable for evening in spring and summer, lace is being shown in some of the latest and most important collections. In these, black is considered to be as smart as ever, particularly in Chantilly, real or imitation, the preference being for small patterns. Most of the new lace dresses are trimmed with flowers, some quite lavishly, others with a single motif to point up the costume. One of the most brilliant evening ensembles shown is inspired by Revell of London. The material is white Chantilly lace over the new white-silver tissue, the entire gown all a snowy shimmer, with a half-wreath of pale pink roses and small flowers in dresden colors fastened on one shoulder.

Flowers, Flowers Everywhere.

An intriguing point in the vogue of flowers is the originality with which they are used in different types of dress and in millinery. The traditional idea of trimming only plain materials with flowers or needlework is reversed in many of the latest importations and those of American design. A further concession than the combination of lace and flowers is made in the printed fabrics which are ultra-fashionable this year. Nicole Grevit makes a handsome dinner dress of amethyst lame motif shot with silver, having three faring tiers on the skirt, and a plain bodice on which the only ornamentation is a cluster of amethyst and purple velvet flowers placed on one shoulder. An evening ensemble reproduced from a Roulinger model is made of flowered chiffon in pastel and darker shades of blue on a pale gray ground. A spray of velvet flowers that repeat the colors in the material is fastened at one side of the bodice and another cluster is used to finish the neck of a three-quarter length coat of the chiffon.

In an informal evening ensemble of money-colored lace the jacket is caught together at the neck with a bunch of yellow primroses.

First Sailboats

The paintings and sculptures in the early records of Egypt show regularly formed boats constructed of sawed planks of timber propelled by numerous rowers and also by sails. These vessels were long galleys with one mast and a large square sail which was sometimes of linen and sometimes of papyrus. The oldest authentic record as to these sailing vessels is the illustration of one of them used as a decoration of an Egyptian amphora (in the British museum). Judged to have been made about 6000 B. C. It is noted, however, that these boats could sail only with the wind. The science of sailing against the wind was unknown for thousands of years. They sailed only when the wind was favorable. The oarsmen worked when the winds were unfavorable.

The Time Test

Two Scots were discussing the domestic troubles of a friend.

"That woman tends poor Sandy an awfu' life," said one.

"Humph! what else could ye expect?" asked the other. "He only courted her for seven years, an' I hold that nae man can understand a woman in that time. Now I courted Maggie Dennis for twenty-two years."

"And did complete happiness follow this lengthy courtship?" asked an Englishman seated opposite.

The speaker was given a scornful glance by the "arliest wooer" who replied: "I found out at the end o' that time that I didna much care for the woman, an' cried aw!"

New Indispensable

Twenty-eight years before George Washington was born, the first American newspaper was established. Increasingly, during the 200-odd years that have intervened, the newspaper has become a matter of course in the American home.

In this day and age one can scarcely conceive a world without newspapers. They are a very part of the fabric of daily life, universally in demand—a running record of world events, human achievements, pathos, tragedy, scientific progress—every conceivable activity.

Different Now

"Times have changed," remarked the man who had been reading of a new record made in the air.

"Yes," replied the other, "those non-stop flights used to be made by abandoning bank cashiers instead of aviators."

Wood Turns to Agate

Next time you come across a petrified tree it may interest you to know that in a few centuries more it will become agate from which the jewelry and marbles of another age may be made. Up to a few centuries ago, notes the Farm Journal, this wood-stone was highly prized as a magic charm, and was believed to be able to do everything from stopping the flow of blood to causing a hurricane.

Sues for Damages Caused by Meat

Ellenville Meatier Claims Damages from Swift & Company Which Meats Claimed Recalled from Sale of Tref Meat to Him.

Tuesday afternoon in the Supreme court the action brought by Swift & Company against Abraham Miller of Ellenville was moved for trial. The case was once before tried and at that time Judge A. T. Clearwater and John W. Eckert appeared for the plaintiff and Judge William D. Cunningham for the defendant. On Monday evening LeRoy Lounsbury was substituted for Judge Cunningham and when the case was moved he asked that he be given time to familiarize himself with the case. As the case had been on the day calendar for several days Judge Staley required the case to proceed. A jury was taken and the trial of the action was commenced today.

This action is an unusual one. It is brought by Swift & Company, meat packers to recover the amount of a bill which it is alleged the defendant owes for meat purchased. Defendant was engaged in the kosher meat business in Ellenville. He purchased meat from the Swift plant in New Jersey which handles such meat as the Jewish trade demands. Miller bought meat from the firm for some time.

There came a time when it was discovered that Miller was handling tref or non-kosher meat in his shop. The Jewish congregation called a meeting to consider this serious religious matter and as a result of the meeting at which Myer Rosenthal, president of the society, presided, Miller was fined $100.

He alleges now that through this action he has been damaged to a great extent. He alleges that the discovery of tref meat in his shop caused much of his trade to leave and ruined his business. He alleges that the meat was purchased from Swift & Company and did not bear the kosher markings. As a result he sues the meat packers for damages.

On the former trial a verdict in the sum of $1,500 less the amount of the meat bill was returned by the jury. On motion of plaintiff the verdict was set aside by Judge Russell on questions of law and an appeal was taken by defendant from Judge Russell's decision to set aside the verdict and a new trial was granted.

Many unusual legal questions are involved in the case in addition to its unusual question of fact. The selling of tref meat in the kosher shop is a serious matter among a Jewish congregation.

Tref Meat Shipped Twice.

According to testimony, plaintiff did ship on two occasions pieces of meat which was not kosher. These pieces of meat were received at the Miller market and the plaintiff's representatives were notified of the fact and agreed to accept the meat when returned by Miller. On the first occasion the tref meat was received and Mr. Miller immediately called upon when he recognized the unwanted piece of meat as such quality as he would not handle in his strictly kosher shop.

In Ellenville there is a committee which inspects with the rabbi every piece of meat which is received when it is received. This is to guarantee the orthodox Jew of securing nothing but kosher meat. It is alleged that on the second occasion when a piece of tref meat was received at the shop it was delivered at the shop by the express man who hung it in the shop.

Within a few minutes and before the burlap wrapping had been removed the committee and the rabbi came in on a tour of inspection. It was discovered for the second time within a few days that non-kosher meat was in the Miller shop.

Miller contends that his explanations to the committee were not sufficient and a meeting was called by the congregation. Tref meat is less expensive than the kosher meat and he alleges that the people believed he was trying to put over on his customers meat which did not meet with the religious standards because of a bigger profit.

At the meeting of the congregation a representative of Swift & Company was present but the congregation fined Miller $100. He alleges that there were some 100 or 125 Jews present and by the action taken at the meeting his business was ruined. He alleges that through the negligence of Swift & Company in sending out the meat which on two occasions did not meet with the religious standards he was damaged to the extent of $5,000.

John W. Eckert appears for plaintiff and LeRoy Lounsbury for defendant.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health:

Mr. and Mrs. John J. McCordie, 27 Furnace street, a daughter, Jean Mary, at Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Wilson, 25 Johnson avenue, a daughter, Emily Lou, at Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burns, 18 Hone street, a daughter, Dolores May.

Scout Nickerson Honored.

At a recent meeting of Kingston Post, No. 150, American Legion, a first aid kit was presented to Scout Carl Nickerson of Troop 10, American Legion Boy Scouts, he being the first one of the troop to become a first class Scout. The post plans to give each one of the troop a prize when he becomes a first class scout.

CAPITOL GUIDE CAN GIVE THE ANSWER

Old-Timer Has Ready Reply for Every Tourist.

Washington.—A little girl of seven came down from Massachusetts the other day to visit her grandfather. He met her at the train. As the two emerged from the Union station the little girl glimpsed the dome of the National Capitol in the distance, and with a cry of delight turned to the old man.

"Grandpa, I know what that place is."

He looked at her with interest.

"That's your capitol," the little one said. "Your capitol."

And "grandpa"—Capt. R. J. Cady, chief of guides for more than 50 years at the National Capitol, admits that he regards the building in pretty much the same way.

Took Post in Hayes' Regime.

Rutherford B. Hayes was President of the United States when Captain Cady took up his post in the rotunda of the Capitol building. That was 50 years ago. Since that time Captain Cady has conducted untold thousands of people through the many interesting corridors and chambers of this structure.

To sit and talk with Captain Cady is to obtain an unforgettable picture of the great events and outstanding figures in the last half century of America's national life. He has observed all of them at close range during this 50-year period, and talks of them with as much ease as he uses in describing one of Trumbull's paintings.

But it is his experiences as a guide that he delights most to talk of. His daily contact with people from every section of the country affords him a rare opportunity to study the tourist. He is called upon to answer as many foolish questions as any other man in the United States. And just how foolish some of these questions propounded by tourists can be no one knows better than Captain Cady.

Always an Answer Ready.

Until the other day he thought he had been asked every possible question about the Capitol building, but one visitor popped a brand new one. He was asked:

"How much does this building weigh?"

Not daunted, the captain gravely answered:

"Approximately 900,783,210 pounds."

The chap walked away, perfectly satisfied.

He is frequently asked, after a party has been shown both the house and senate chambers, to point out the place where congress meets. More than once a visitor has requested an introduction to a senator or representative from his home district when that senator or representative is not a member of congress, but the state legislature.

Couples on their honeymoon flock to Washington and Captain Cady entertains them. He has become an expert in picking out the bride and groom from among the others in the party.

Would Inflict 10,000

Goats on North Carolina

Kingston, N. C.—D. Eugene Wood, Kingston sportsman, would have the general assembly of North Carolina spend $10,000 to buy 10,000 goats and turn them loose in the eastern and western part of the state in the hope that the number would increase to 100,000 in ten years.

He believes, does Mr. Wood, that the goats would:

Rid the state of weeds and undergrowth and thus beautify woods and natural parks.

Eradicate snakes and other pests by eating up weeds and things that snakes lurk in.

Give the mosquito population a wallop by eating weeds in marshes and allowing the sun to dry up the water puddles.

And, another thing, they would provide a new supply of game, he says, adding:

"If you don't believe it try to catch a tame billy goat when he doesn't want to be caught."

French Rush to Defend

the Innocent Oyster

Paris, France.—France has rushed to the defense of the oyster against attacks by British medical scientists.

F. Borde, a French oyster magnate, on behalf of the republic takes vigorous issue with the British position that oyster vitamins are of "little importance."

The research work, said M. Borde, of Madame Randuin and Doctor Pottier of the Sorbonne had proved to a skeptical world that the oyster contained a large quantity of vitamins C. He added that American experiments had disclosed the existence of vitamins A and B.

Ancient Tombs Dug Up on Playgrounds Site

Varese, Italy.—A number of tombs of the Gallo-Celtic era have just been discovered at Sesto Calende in the course of preparing the new sports ground for the "ballista" or Fascist Boy Scouts.

The tombs contained funeral urns and cases of rudimentary style. More interesting was the small collection of arms, swords, buckler shields and other warlike implements which came to light in the largest of the tombs. Some worked bronze ornaments of a certain design were also discovered.

Speculators Lost Millions in Stocks

Credit Stringency Which Sent Call Money to 20 Per Cent Affected Thousands of Speculators. Many of Whom Were Wiped Out.

New York, March 27 (AP).—Thousands of speculators were millions of dollars poorer today after a weird session on the Stock Exchange in which a trading record of $2,246,749 shares was established.

Battered down by a credit stringency which sent call money to 20 per cent, the market plunged downward yesterday in an avalanche of selling, then rebounded in the last hour of trading. When the ticker, 2 hours and 14 minutes late, had recorded the last transaction the previous record established November 23 last had been exceeded by 1,304,249 shares.

The stupendous volume of trading was contrasted with the low record for a day's transactions made 93 years ago when on March 16, 1836, the day's total was 31 shares of bank stock valued at $3,476.25.

Thousands of small speculators, representing persons from every stratum of society, who had played along happily for months in a bull market were wiped out either for lack of additional margin or when they became frightened and dumped their holdings "at the market."

Cooperation of member banks with the Federal Reserve board in its recently announced policy to restrict credit for speculative purposes was given by Wall Street operators as the prime factor behind the break.

The call money rate renewed at 12 per cent after going to 14 Monday, then rose to 15, then to 17 and finally to 20. Even the high rate, unequalled since February 5, 1929, failed to attract funds. "Street funds" were reported to have been loaned at 28 per cent.

Customers Jam Brokers' Offices.

While customers jammed brokers' offices frantically seeking information from the tardy ticker, the floor of the exchange was a roaring human maelstrom as brokers shouted themselves hoarse to execute the selling orders pouring in on them.

They stopped to laugh, however, when the yellow light which records the call money rate flickered out as the rate went to 20 per cent. A blown fuse was responsible for the touch of ironical comedy.

The last hour rally, which carried many stocks back close to opening prices, was due to buying by conservative investors, bargain hunting speculators and those who had sold for a decline buying back their stock to realize their profits.

Cases Tried and Settled in Court

A verdict for $106.34 was directed

Tuesday afternoon by Judge Staley

in an action brought by the Kingston

Up-to-Date Company against Joseph

W. Coughlin of Ellenville. Plaintiff alleged that on February 1, 1927,

the defendant and his wife purchased

Sawdust as Fuel Gives

Dealers Surprise Profits

Seattle, Wash.—Northwest lumber

manufacturing towns, formerly boasted "white elephants"—huge piles of sawdust, for which there was no demand. Last year some one invented a burner attachment that could be connected to any furnace, heater or engine and the use of sawdust was urged.

So many people installed sawdust burners that there now exists a famine of the fuel. All the mountainous piles about sawmills have disappeared, and to keep up with the demand for the cheap fuel, sawdust is being brought into the city by scows, auto trucks, trains and electric in-terurbans. Sawdust for Seattle use has been brought from mills 200 miles distant. There is no dearth of waste material from which to make sawdust or hogged fuel, but few mills are equipped with machinery to grind wood. Many dealers are realizing big and unexpected profits.

STAINER'S "CRUCIFIXION" TO BE SUNG ON FRIDAY

In practically all of the large cities of this country and in many of the smaller ones, Stainer's "Crucifixion" is sung each year either on Good Friday or at some time during the week preceding Easter.

Kingston is fortunate this year in having this beautiful carila sung in both spoken and downy sections so that those need not miss the opportunity of hearing it and both audiences are expected to be filled to capacity.

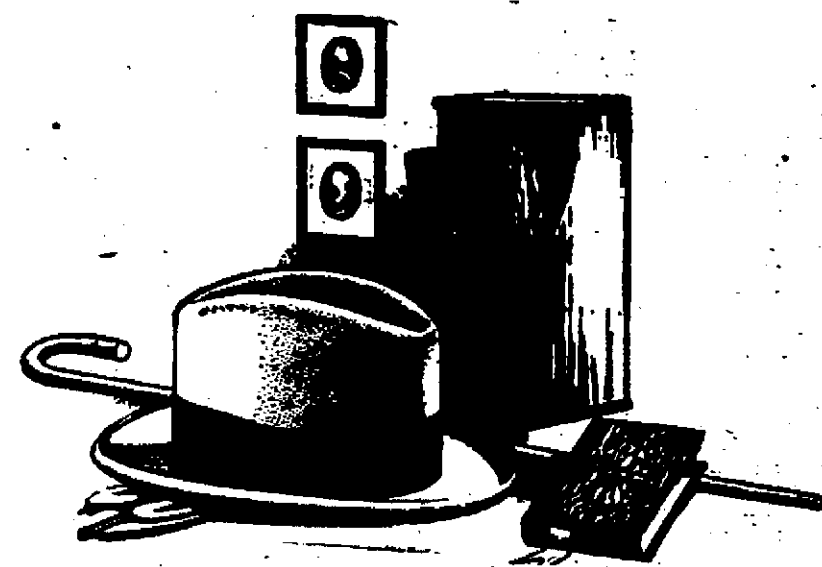

The system service at the First Reformed Church will be simply the carila; the music alone telling the story appropriate to the day. The doors will be open at two o'clock and the service will begin promptly at three. Seven deep-seated churches will hear the carila sung in the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer at 11 o'clock.

USO League Will Now Invite 2 New Schools

Organizing of Poughkeepsie High School at Meeting of Officers at Middletown—Two New Members Will Be Invited Making a Six-Team League.

Organization of Poughkeepsie High School from the DUSO League, to take effect at the end of the baseball season, was accepted at a meeting of the league held at Middletown.

At the session plans were also made for expanding the activities of the league. It was decided to invite more towns into the league. This decision was given out by the league at the meeting at Middletown.

Superintendent A. H. Naylor of the district, president of the league, presided at the meeting and announced that Poughkeepsie's withdrawal from the league was the result of the fact that Poughkeepsie High School plans to extend its athletic activities in order that it may be able to form a Poughkeepsie League.

Explained in denying that Poughkeepsie withdrew from the DUSO League it felt that the league did not afford enough competition for athletic teams.

Superintendent Moon and Principal Fox of Poughkeepsie were present. They telephoned President Naylor and said that they had gone to Newburgh, where they believed a session was to be held.

Present at the meeting were Superintendent Michael and Principal Ingen of Kingston High; Superintendent Gage, Principal Dwyer and Coach Stevens of Newburgh; Superintendent Burdick, Middlebrook; Principal Marsh and Coach of Port Jervis.

Members of the DUSO League at Poughkeepsie withdrew from Middletown, Kingston, Newburgh and Port Jervis. With two additional members to be invited to join, there will be six high schools in the league as heretofore.

AMELING'S AFFAIRS ARE COMPLICATED

New York, March 27 (AP)—It looks as though Max Schmeling would start fighting before anyone can find out who will manage his campaign. With the "German" still in his homeland, his affairs took another complicated turn yesterday when Joe Jacobs, the American half of Max's managerial team, returned from Europe with the announcement that Max was under contract to the Madison Square Garden Corporation and would appear there on June 25.

While Jacobs is trying to guide Schmeling along the road laid out by the Garden corporation, which gave him his first chance in America, Arthur Buelow, his German manager, the only one recognized by the New York State Athletic Commission, is trying to lead him to a divergent path. In addition to a bout at Madison Square Garden, Buelow has contracted for before Max left, a fight with Jess McMon, former Garden matchmaker, the Dempsey-Humbert fugary combination for matches for Schmeling.

Schmeling still is trying to have contract with Buelow abrogated. Buelow, however, claims that the contract is still valid. He says that the contract is still valid because it was made before anything was done about breaking the contract. Jacobs did not say when Schmeling will return to help settle the complications.

PENNSYLVANIA TO TRY OUT NEW COURSE

Philadelphia, March 27 (AP)—University of Pennsylvania oarsmen will try out a new course on the Delaware river, Coach Rusty Callow announced.

Conditions on the Schuylkill river are the Red and Blue crews have been for more than 25 years, could be to become worse. Callow said, recently a new shell and several slips were demolished when the Schuylkill river flooded its banks and submerged the oarsmen.

The new course is a seven-mile stretch of deep water, starting at the Union Inn, near Torrance, and ending at the University City. The Schuylkill practice course may be abandoned permanently.

House of Mentality Would Mean Idiocy

It is a funny place, this world of mentalism, with its everlasting spread of ignorance and helplessness, boasting all the time of its spread of education and enlightenment. There stands thousands of property owners and millions of wage workers, none of them able to make anything, none of them knowing what to do until someone tells them, none of them having the least notion of how it is that they are people paying them money, and none of them knowing how to buy things when they travel they are surprised to find that savages and primitives and villagers who have to do everything for themselves are more intelligent and resourceful than they would be if they were any other kind of life.

HART'S RETURN TO RING ANOTHER BLOW TO PAN-AMS

The loss of their pitching ace, Johnny Carpenter, who is to try out for a berth on the Albany team of the Eastern League, is not the only blow which the Pan-Am baseball team will suffer this season according to the present outlook. Vince Hart, the oilmen's crack third baseman, has given up the idea of playing the national sport this season to return to the prize ring.

It is said that Hart, who several years ago was out of Kingston's outstanding boxers, has placed himself under the guidance of Bill McCabe of Poughkeepsie, former adviser to Gene Tunney, retired world's heavyweight champion. Much success is forecast for Hart in the punch 'em pastime.

THOMPSON'S MANAGER TO PROTEST DECISION

Chicago, March 27 (AP)—Ray Davis, manager of Young Jack Thompson, who was defeated by Jackie Fields Monday night for the N. B. A. welterweight boxing title, said today he would protest the decision awarding Fields the bout and championship.

Alvis said the bout was stopped for more than five minutes and the ring was invaded by others than the fighters and referee. He added that Thompson was unharmed by the stampede of spectators when a panic broke out in the Coliseum.

Christy Mathewson Was Rated as Smart Hurler

Christy Mathewson was rated as one of the smartest big league pitchers of all times. "Big Six" never wasted his energy or strength and seldom bore down real hard until the opposing team got men on the bases and the score was close. He used his "gray matter" as well as his mighty right arm to win ball games and pennants for the Giants.

But Gene McCann, former big league pitcher and now one of the Yankees' well dressed scouts, told a story on Matty the other day and explained that on this particular day "Big Six" didn't use any "gray matter" to win and attempted to strike out every batter that faced him.

"It was back in 1901 when I was with the Brooklyn club and Matty was just a rookie from Bucknell college," said McCann. "I faced him one day at old Washington Park. The Dodgers, as the Brooklyn club was called in those days, had a pretty fair ball club and we didn't expect much trouble from the college kid."

"But Matty showed us plenty that afternoon. He cut loose with a fast ball that was like a bullet from a gun. And a curve that was almost impossible to hit. What a pitcher he was that afternoon!"

"The Brooklyn players walked up to the plate and turned right around and walked back again. It was not until the eighth inn—that we got a hit off Matty. That's how good he was even then."

Jim Corbett Fought for Position in the Shade

Jim Corbett always figured ways and means of getting the jump on his opponents, according to Fight Stories Magazine. For example, during the famous Corbett-Choyinski battle on the barge in Benicia bay, the beating of the bright sun in the eyes of the fighters proved a decided handicap, so Jim tried to dope out a way to avoid it.

At one end of the barge were two thick pillars with a little pilot house atop them. It threw a shadow into one corner of the ring, and Corbett backed into it, and tried to do all his fighting there.

That gave Choyinski the tip. At the start of the seventeenth he worked his way into that corner, too, and from then on those sweating, bloody men fought for the shelter of the shade.

Choyinski was a great fighter, but Corbett was the finer student of the game. He watched for little openings that other men of his time did not dream of looking for. This instance of the sunlight and shadow is only one minor example, but it points as clearly as any other to Jim's amazing alertness, which, after all, was the secret of his success in the ring.

College Boxing Star

Capt. Alvie Wolf of the Penn State boxing team, who remains undefeated in intercollegiate boxing, Wolf, who hails from Brooklyn, N. Y., boxes in the 175 pound class over which he rules as collegiate king. He knocked out Al Olemski of the University of Pennsylvania in the star bout of the dual meet between the two colleges. The Penn State boxers won the meet by five victories to two.

Most metals expand with heat, but the opposite is true of type metal, which is composed of lead, antimony, tin and bismuth. It expands when cooling and thus completely fills the type mold, thus producing type letters that are clear and distinct.

Quite a number of silver foxes have been sent from Canada to ranches in the Italian Alps, where it is stated that ranching conditions are ideal, and where the fox farming industry is having quite a steady growth.

WITH THE BALL CLUBS

(By the Associated Press)

Phoenix, Ariz.—Manager Bush has had to throw his Pittsburgh Pirates infield experiment into the discard and send Pie Traynor back to his old post at third base. The Pirates captain's hip injury is reported on the mend but he will not be started to shortstop as was at first planned.

Tampa, Fla.—When it comes time on June 15 for American League teams to shake off all players over 25 in number, the Washington Club won't be hit very hard. Scouting of catchers Al Bohl to Baltimore and Cliff Bolton to New Haven now leaves the Nationals with only 25 men on the roster, with the probability that one pitcher may be cut loose before the regular season starts.

San Antonio, Texas.—With little of their training grind left, the stock takers of the Giants' squad have decided that Carl Hubbell and Dutch Henry will pitch the McGrawmen to a good many victories this year. Hubbell and Benton are expected to carry most of the pitching burden. Henry also is in fine shape and is throwing in a curve ball with a nice break on it.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Lou Gehrig, who is one reason why the Yankees won the world's championship last year, thinks his team will repeat this season, or at least take the American League pennant.

"We have six pitchers this year," is Lou's argument.

"You can count on Hoyt for twenty games and upward. Penneck, if his arm is right, which it seems to be, is good for twenty more. Zachary is a sure bet. Besides these we have Higgins, Henry Johnson and Rhodes. There are several others but I'm counting on the first six when I say we'll get better pitching this year than any year since I joined the Yanks."

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Hank Gowdy, who was a veteran catcher when he was first major league ball player to volunteer in 1917 after the United States declared war, has volunteered again, this time for his old team, the Braves, and again has come through.

Hank, supposed to be an assistant coach, was rushed in as catcher against the Philadelphia Athletics here yesterday in the tenth inning.

The Athletics had filled the bases with one out in their half of the twelfth inning when Jimmy Dykes blazed a grounder to Pitcher Bob Smith. The latter tossed to Gowdy, who touched the plate and whipped the ball like a flash to first for a double play. Then the Braves went out and won in their half of the inning.

Sport Notes

The ancient sport of chariot racing is to be revived in Glasgow, Scotland.

Having never met a wet hen we do not know whether it can be madder than a mad hockey fan.

The heavyweight boxing contenders just go about knocking one another off like Philadelphia policemen.

Eube Brandon has been re-engaged by President W. G. Brannan as one of his umpires in the Piedmont league.

Joe Boland, former Notre Dame tackle, has been named head football coach at St. Thomas college in St. Paul.

The average eighteen-hole golf course in the vicinity of New York costs $25,000 a year to keep in good condition.

Bert Pankratz, highly rated Detroit semipro catcher, has been signed by the Columbus club of the American association.

The American Legion baseball tournament drew 122,000 boys last year and this year it is hoped at least 200,000 will play.

Ray Caldwell, veteran righthanded pitcher, has been given his unconditional release by Memphis of the Southern league.

Although Indianapolis won the American association pennant this season just past, the club lost approximately $1,000,000.

Duffy Lewis has signed Rafael Quintana, a Cuban shortstop, for the Portland team of the New England league. He lives in Havana.

The veteran pitcher, Jim Zinn, bought by Cleveland from Kansas City, had trials with the Athletics in 1919 and Pittsburgh in 1920.

If tennis authorities are seeking a definition of "amateur" and there is absolutely no evidence they are—they might first ask an amateur poet.

Derrill Pratt, now manager of a Texas league club, was the first of a long list of stars to enter the big leagues from the University of Alabama.

Nothing further has been heard on the Albion basketball referee who swallowed his whistle in the excitement. Does the traffic start whenever he sighs?

Only a very short time now until the inevitable strange woman in the third-base seats exclaims: "For goodness' sake! Why do they call that big fat man 'Babe'?"

Bob Parham, Georgia Tech football and baseball star, may sign for a trial with one of the New York clubs. He hit more than 400 last season in college competition.

Pete Lazo is not the first prominent boxer with marked ability as a baseball player. Others who were also skillful on the diamond were Jim Corbett, Terry McGovern and John L. Sullivan.

George Farnshaw, who cost the Athletics $50,000 when he was taken over from Baltimore a year ago, was the first casualty at the Fort Myers camp. He strained his back and was told to take time out.

Under the present rules of three-cushion billiard competition in the United States, the champion receives a salary of $6,000 for a year, during which time he is not required to defend the title.

Babe Ruth of the New York Yankees is believed to have the heaviest bat made. While the average bat used by other players is from 23 to 40 ounces, the great home-run slapper uses one weighing 52 ounces.

Multisyllable Words

Feature Some Tongues

English, as Prof. Otto Jespersen of Denmark recently observed, may be degenerating into a mass of monosyllables, but there are many languages left over which Mark Twain could have had the kind of fun in which he indulged when he suggested that German words could be made to serve as suspension bridges across the widest rivers. There is Finnish, for instance. While the reader of an American newspaper has had flushed upon him the laconic headline, "Jap King Takes Crown," the Finnish reader, as the interpreter puts it, is still wading somewhere in valtaistumelleusettamislubia, which means nothing more than "coronation ceremony" and leaves him still a vast distance to go in order to learn to whom it happens. In Danish the old age pension law is known as alderdomsunderstøttelseforordningen and in Italian, as the interpreter remarks neatly, it takes time to rush headlong as the reader may test for himself, by trying to say precipiterosilismovemente. No wonder that headlines in some foreign newspapers have to be three or four columns wide. Even then, the headline writer must have his troubles.

Too Far Behind

One day Jessie's mother was telling of some incident which had occurred some time in the past and asked her small daughter whether she remembered it. Jessie replied: "No, I don't remember that; it is too far behind."

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 27 (AP).—The credit crisis, which precipitated one of the heaviest liquidating movements in stock market history this month, appeared to have passed its peak today, and the prices rallied considerably after a temporary period of heaviness which followed the posting of a 15 per cent renewal rate for call money.
Call money held firm at the renewal rate although New York bankers were reported to be standing by to prevent a repetition of yesterday's run-up to the 20 per cent level.
Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank, which supplied funds freely late yesterday when it looked as though the rate would be pushed above 20 per cent, stated that the bank was offering $25,000,000 additional to be loaned as follows:
$5,000,000 each at 15, 17, 18, 19 and 20 per cent. Similar action was contemplated by other bankers.
One of the most encouraging credit developments of the day was a decline of 1/4 of 1 per cent in bankers' acceptances, the first recession in months. Time money held firm at 3 1/4 to 3 1/2 per cent with the market extremely dull.
Trading showed a marked reduction in volume today. This was considered as an indication that the bulk of forced liquidation had been completed, and that speculators and investors were not inclined materially to extend their commitments at this time.
Business news continued favorable. Iron Age reported that a 25 cent a ton advance in iron ore, a further stiffening of northern pig iron prices, and added forward commitments in finished steel are fresh evidence of the buoyant situation in the iron and steel industry.
International Telephone, which has been showing independent strength in the face of reactionary tendencies all week, soared 15 points to a new high record of 256 1/2.
The stock will shortly be split up on a 3 to 1 basis. Case Threshing Machine also soared 15 points, Baldwin Locomotive 12 1/2, A. M. Byers 11, Advance
Rumely Preferred 9, Burroughs
Adding Machine 8 and Industrial Iron, Simmons Co., Commercial
Solvents, Electric Auto Lite, General Electric, Lambert, Greene Cananea and American and Foreign Power sold 5 to 7 points higher.

Local Death Record

The funeral of Augustus J. Pepp-ard, who died early Tuesday morning at his home, 173 Green street, will be held at the late home at 10
a. m., Thursday, March 28, and at St. Joseph's Church at 10:30 o'clock.
Interment in the family plot in St.
Mary's cemetery.
Jennie Young Lowerhouse, wife of Casper Lowerhouse, died on Sunday, March 24, at her home, 111 Weirfield street, Brooklyn, aged 43 years. The funeral was held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the late residence. Interment was made today at Saugerties, her former home.
Funeral services for Abraham V.
Haigh, former manager of the Poughkeepsie Transportation Company and civil war veteran, were held at Poughkeepsie Tuesday. He was eighty-six years old. His wife and two sons survive. Mr. Haigh served during the Civil War under General McClellan, whom he had known intimately.
Mrs. Cornelia Elizabeth Maxon died today at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Eva Van Steenburgh, 55 Garden street. She is survived by two granddaughters, Mrs. Lillian Van Steenburgh of Dearborn, Michigan, and Mrs. Eva Van Steenburgh, also a sister living in Springfield, Mass. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.
Mrs. Fred Greiner died Monday at her home in West Marlborough, aged 60 years, after a long illness.
She was a member of the Marlborough Presbyterian Church and was born at Milton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Devos. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs.
Ernest Borchard of Marlborough and Jersey City, and three sons, Charles and Arthur of West Marlborough and Clinton, a student in Albany. Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late residence.
The funeral of William Costello, who died at the Benedictine Hospital on Saturday, March 23, was held Tuesday morning from the residence of Mrs. R. McCutcheon, 44 Prince street, at 8:30 o'clock and 9:30 o'clock from St. Alphonsus Monastery, Esopus, where a solemn high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Martin P. Leddy, assisted by the members of the community as deacon and sub-deacon. Seated within the sanctuary were the Rev. Thomas P. Larkin of New York city. Students attended the Mass in a body. The Mass and responses were sung by a choir of 40 students, leaving a lasting impression on those present. The funeral cortege, which was very large, was accompanied to the cemetery by the Rev. Fathers McCarthy and Larkin, who pronounced the final absolution.
The bearers were Patrick and James
P. Forham, John Flynn and Patrick Flanagan.
The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Roach of 35 Stuyvesant street was held this morning from the late residence at 9:30 o'clock and 10 o'clock from St. Mary's Church, where a solemn high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Thomas P. Larkin of New York city, assisted by the Rev. Bernard Riordan of New York city as deacon and the Rev. William H. Kenedy of St. Mary's as sub-deacon. The conclusion of the Mass, Joseph L. Murphy rendered a solo, "Ose Sweetly Solemn Thought" and while the body was being borne from the church he sang "Calvary". An exceptionally large delegation of ladies, members of the various organizations of which the deceased was a member, attended in a body and acted as an honorary escort. The societies represented were the L. C. B. A., Catholic Daughters of America, St. Mary's Rosary Society, Auxiliary of the Veterans of the World War and the American Legion. The floral tributes were profuse and very beautiful. The large funeral cortege was accompanied to St.
Mary's cemetery by the Rev. Fathers Riordan and Larkin, who pronounced the final absolution at the grave.

No Drop Yet In April Coal Prices

Whether there will be a drop in the retail coal prices in Kingston the first of April is not known as yet.
Usually the big operating companies in control of the coal mines drop the wholesale price of coal the first of the month and this drop is passed on to the buying public by the retail dealers. None of the local coal dealers were in a position today to announce what the April prices would be.
CAPT. RODGERS TO START ON CHICAGO FLIGHT SUNDAY.
Captain Charles A. Rodgers, World War aviator and former air mail pilot, who is noted as one of the country's leading dare-devils of the air, on Saturday will leave the Eagle Hotel here, where he has his headquarters as a representative of the Aviation Service and Transport, Inc., of Chicago, to compete in a race from New York to the Windy City.
Rodgers with five contestants will take off from New York on Sunday and will race to Chicago and back for a prize worthy of any birdman's efforts. The plane that the Kingston aviator will fly is capable of doing 125 miles an hour. The stability skill has prompted many interested in aeronautics to pick this aviator as the probable winner.
A large banner bearing the name
Olivette will be attached to Rodgers's plane. The captain expects this to act as a sort of good luck charm, for it has accompanied him on numerous contest flights that turned out in victory. The name is that of a close friend, Nina Olivette, who plays one of the leading roles in the musical comedy "Hold Everything" now showing in New York. Miss Olivette has accompanied Rodgers on some of his flights and is one of those who pick him to be successful in the coming race.

GAS PREVENTED FLIERS FROM BREAKING RECORD.

Bahia, Brazil, March 27 (AP).—
Only lack of gasoline prevented the Spanish fliers, Captains Jimenez and Iglesias, from succeeding in their attempt to break the world's record for long distance flights in flying from Seville, Spain, to Rio Janeiro.
Iglesias today declared they first sighted the Brazilian coast over the state of Bahia and had intended to keep on to Rio Janeiro when they discovered that their fuel was insufficient.
They decided that it was best to land at the nearest flying field.
Iglesias said that their plane had stood up well against strong head winds and was sure that they would have reached Rio Janeiro had their supply of gasoline held out.

THREE CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH IN THEIR HOME.

Emporium, Pa., March 27 (AP).—
Three children burned to death in a fire that destroyed a home here today. The children's father and 4-year-old sister were burned severely.
The victims were Thelma and Velma Smith, five-year-old twins, and Mary Ann Smith, 3. They were asleep when the Smith home caught fire. The cause of the blaze was not learned. A small brother of the children leaped from a window and escaped injury. The mother was not in the house when the fire occurred.
Grat Zeppella Homeward Bound.
Jerusalem, March 27 (AP).—The Graf Zeppellin, giant dirigible, had its nose turned toward home today, after having cruised over Palestine and the Holy Land. Two days' flying over eastern and central Europe faced it before completion of its four-day 6,000-mile air voyage. It passed over Athens, Greece, at 7 a.
m. The scheduled route homeward was over the eastern Balkans and over the capitals of Central Europe with landing at Friedrichshafen probably Thursday night.

Receive Offers From Portland.

Maury McDermott and Nels Dewey of Poughkeepsie, well known in Hudson Valley baseball circles, have received offers to join the Portland Club of the New England League, under Duffy Lewis, old Boston Red Sox player.

City of David Quest

Jerusalem.—Excavations on the Mount of Ophe, where it is hoped to lay bare the City of David, have revealed an ancient wall at a depth of 20 feet. It is thought to have formed part of a fortress of the Syrian army stationed by the Greeks in Jerusalem.
One street has been cleared of earth.
It is lined with the ruins of houses belonging to the Byzantine period.
The buildings have mosaic floors of good design. Much of the pottery dates back to the time of the First Temple.

Scheme Went Awry

Minneapolis, Minn.—Nelson W.
Robinson of Little Falls has a good scheme to make money by sending pencils to persons who had died and then trying to collect $4.30 from their relatives. Federal Judge W. A. Cunt summoned Robinson to 10 months in prison.

Amelia Agreed

Philly Niece—Woman's Crown are becoming longer, snottier.
Familar Aunt—Yes, my dear, very much more becoming.

Separation Coming

Harrington—I am wedded to my art.
Carrington—Cheer up, there'll be an unexpected divorce.

40th Wedding Anniversary.
On Monday night, March 25, a number of friends of Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Gulanc gave them a surprise in honor of their 40th wedding anniversary. The evening was delightfully spent in playing dominoes and refreshments were served.
Short Spring.
Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Jay Sprung of Fort Plain, N. Y., announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy A., to Leon M. Short of Wittenberg, N. Y. They were married by the Rev. Benjamin C. Warren of Chatham on Sunday, March 24, and were attended by Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly, also of Chatham.
Lowell Club.
The Lowell Club met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs.
Schoonmaker on Washington avenue.
Mrs. VanWagoner reported that the club had arranged for its full quota of tables for the coming Federation card party to be held at the Stuyvesant Hotel on Saturday, April 6. At Tuesday's meeting the club members chose their subjects for next year's program of study on "India." Mrs.
Harry Walker, county Federation chairman, was present and spoke of the coming district Federation meeting to be held on April 13 at Troy and asked that delegates from the Lowell Club attend the meeting.
One of the main pieces of business for the afternoon was the election of next year's officers who will be: president, Mrs. Myra Conklin; vice president, Mrs. Pettigall; recording secretary, Mrs. Delaplane; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Fessenden; treasurer, Mrs. Edwards; librarian, Mrs.
James H. Everett. The afternoon was brought to a close with the serving of refreshments and a pleasant social time. Next week the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Edwards and this will be the last regular meeting of this season.

About the Folks.

Mrs. C. G. Krom of 68 Cedar street is seriously ill at her home.
Mildred Peck was removed in the ambulance from 63 Hasbrouck avenue to the Kingston Hospital on Tuesday.
Mrs. Bartolo Liccardo, 57 Crown street, who has been a patient at the Kingston Hospital for several days, is reported to be improving nicely.
Edwin P. O'Reilly, who is attending the Catholic University at Washington, D. C., where he is president of the freshman class, is spending the Easter vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William O'Reilly, on Pine Grove avenue.

Odds and Ends

Treachery Causes Chefoo to Fall

Chinese Nationalist Independence Refused to Carry Out Orders To Attack Forces of Shantung Marshal Who Occupies City.
Chefoo, Shantung, China, March 27 (AP).—Marshal Chang Tsung-Chang entered this city at 8 a. m.
today and, virtually without resistance from its Nationalist defenders, took control. The British ship Cornflower and the United States cruiser Trenton moved in shore to a position near the foreign quarter to meet any emergency which might arise.
Defeat of the Nationalist troops followed treachery and defection of 7,000 of their number, who went over to Chang, former war lord of Shantung province.
The Nationalists, who were led by General Liu Chao-Nien, began to retreat at 3 a. m., after reverses in a battle which had raged for two days east of the city. They passed through the city eastward in the direction of Ninghaichow, leaving behind them large quantities of munitions.
Shops all over the city were closed and shuttered tight and residents remained inside. The Chinese Chamber of Commerce sent a delegation to Chang to arrange peaceful transfer of the town. Looting by the victorious troops was feared.
The Shantung marshal's forces immediately took charge of the cable station, the manager of which had previously asked a guard from the Trenton in the harbor.
Pursue Nationalists.
Thousands of Chang's troops passed through the city pursuing the retreating Nationalists. They were well armed, and had trench mortars and machine guns.
Treachery of a subordinate was assigned as the immediate cause of Liu Chao-Nien's defeat. The subordinate had charge of a sector of the western defenses. Last night he refused to carry out orders to attack, leaving a gap through which the enemy advanced, forcing the Nationalists to retreat.
The new positions of the two war vessels, close in shore, it was believed would have the effect of partially maintaining order in the city.

Swift & Company Win Meat Case

This afternoon in Supreme court in the action brought by Swift & Company, meat packers, against Miller of Ellenville, Judge Staley directed a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $730.51. Miller had set up a counter claim but at the conclusion of the defendant's case Judge Staley ruled that not enough evidence had been produced to make out a case and directed the verdict as stated. Court then recessed until April 4 at 10 o'clock in the morning.

East River Now Heated by Big Power Plants

Back in 1770 the East River at New York city froze sufficiently to allow an army to cross over the ice in safety. But nowadays the stream obstinately refuses to freeze, even when the temperature reaches its lowest extreme.

One reason for the warmth of New York's adjacent waters may be the action of the nine power plants along its shores. For every ton of coal consumed in making steam for the turbines, about 400 tons of water—which is drawn from the river—needed to condense the steam back into water. After it has served its useful purpose, the water is heated about 25 degrees before it returns to its original habitat and at least 400,000 tons of water pass in and out of the power plants every hour. It has been computed that this has the effect of raising the temperature of the whole river at least 10 degrees, in spite of the strong tidal current which changes its waters twice daily by influx from Long island sound and New York harbor.

Easy for Woman to Find Parking Space

It was a busy corner and there were parking space for just one car. A gentleman espied the space, counted it his own and proceeded to ease his car into it. To do this he had, it seems, to back, turn, wheel, run forward, shift gears, and attack on the right and left flanks.

While he was going through this very elaborate maneuvering, a woman driver arrived and cleanly usurped the parking space by the absurdly simple method of driving her automobile straight into it without flourishes or trouble.

A moment or so passed and then the gentleman realized for all his strategical position was lost. "Say, sister," he began, and he was still talking as the woman snapped the door of the car and got lost in the crowd about—Baltimore Sun.

MONEY FOR ROAD BUILDING NEEDS

Greater Part of Income Derived From Motor Vehicle Tax and Gasoline.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

While the greater portion of the annual state road income is derived from motor vehicle taxes and gasoline taxation, receipts from sales of state highway road and bridge bonds and from notes for 1925 and 1927 ranked third, and federal-aid appropriations fourth as sources of revenue. In 1927, 1924 and 1925, motor vehicle taxes headed the list, state bond revenues were second, federal-aid funds ranked third, transferred funds from counties ranked fourth, and gasoline taxation fifth.

From Sale of Bonds.
The latest available figures of 1927 show that 12 per cent of the total state road income $739,765,258, or $90,979,229 was derived from the sale of highway road and bridge bonds and from notes; 35 per cent or $260,854,765 was derived from motor vehicle taxes, and slightly less than 23 per cent or $169,518,473 was derived from gasoline taxation. Federal-aid amounting to $90,452,671 formed 10 per cent of the total.

Of the total county and township road income for 1927 of $840,613,927, about 21½ per cent, or $181,060,952 was derived from the sale of bonds, which is more than double the sum received by these subdivisions from motor vehicle taxes and gas taxation, amounting respectively to $40,239,858 and $48,960,568. Bond revenues ranked second in the counties' total income, exceeded only by the $405,219,774 local road tax levy. Bond revenues have ranked second in the counties' annual income for several years.

According to latest available figures, 31 states have an outstanding state road and bridge bond indebtedness of $860,000,000. The county and township bonded indebtedness for roads in 45 states is $396,333,000.

In the recent election, Iowa, by voting an issue of $100,000,000, brought the total number of states with issues of state bonds outstanding to 32. In the fall elections, Missouri, West Virginia and Louisiana also voted additional credits of $155,000,000 to those already authorized for road and bridge improvement. All of the recent bond issues were made possible by amendment of state constitutions.

Pays Interest on Bonds.
Interest on state road bonds, as well as retirement of principal, in 25 states is paid wholly or in part from either the motor vehicle fees or from gasoline taxation, and in some states from both. The interest and principal on the Iowa state bonds will be paid by motor vehicle fees and gasoline taxation.

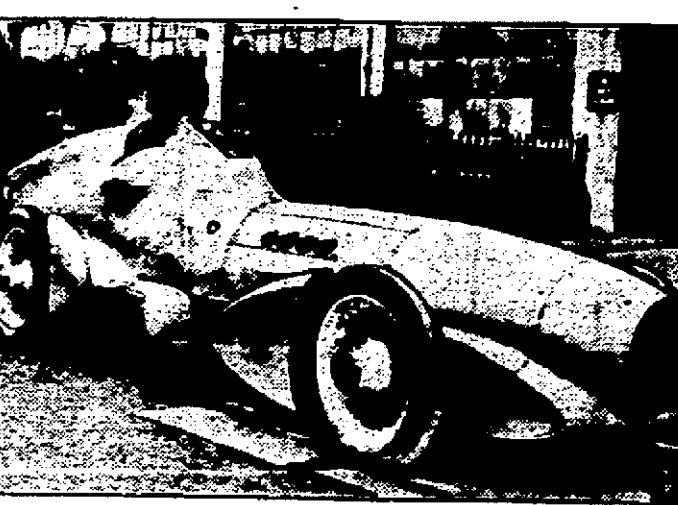

For 1927 the states having bond issues reported a sale of $76,825,000 of state road and bridge bonds bearing an interest rate of from 3 to 5 per cent, and a sale of $194,301,000 of county bonds with an interest rate of from 4½ to 6 per cent. The average interest rate on all state road and bridge bonds sold in the past 33 years is 4.55 per cent.

State road bonds were issued as early as 1894 by Massachusetts. In 1906, Rhode Island and New York adopted the plan. In 1908, Maryland joined the ranks; in 1909, California and New Hampshire floated issues; in 1911, Utah and Idaho; in 1912, New Mexico; in 1913, Maine; in 1917, Delaware and Oregon; in 1918, Louisiana; in 1919, Illinois, Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Wyoming; in 1920, Colorado, Missouri, New Jersey and West Virginia.

Parking on Down Grade Requires Real Caution

Parking with safety on a downgrade involves much more than turning the wheels in toward the curb. It never is a waste of time to take the additional precautions of pulling on the parking brake and leaving the car in gear. In being content with placing the wheels so the car cannot slip, the driver frequently makes the mistake of putting merely the side of the tire against the curb. Of its own weight the car frequently works itself free. Downgrade parking is responsible for much serious damage to the car that one does not hear or read about. It pays to take no chances.

Motorists and Signals

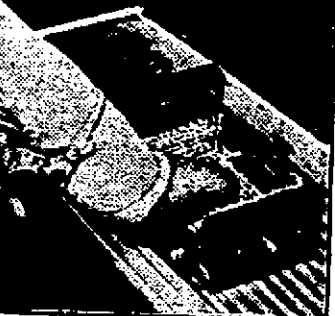

An automobile motorist reports that the most painstaking observation has convinced him that the significance of a driver protruding his hand straight out from the farboard window of his car is as follows, possibilities being given in order of their inherent likelihood:

- (a) Driver is shaking ash from actual cigarette.
- (b) Is pointing out airplane, woodchuck or humming-bird to friend's wife.
- (c) Stretching himself.
- (d) Gesturing in support of oration he is making to inmates of car.
- (e) Shaking ash from imaginary cigarette.
- (f) Rubbing mosquito-bitten elbow on sill of window.
- (g) Resting his arm, cramped from long driving.
- (h) Trying to attract attention of acquaintance on roadside.
- (i) Relieving tickling of wrist by overlong shirt sleeve.
- (j) Flirting with young lady in car behind or ahead.
- (k) Signaling for right turn.
- (l) Signaling for a stop.
- (m) Signaling that he is about to turn around in the street.
- (n) Signaling that he is out of gas.
- (o) Signaling for left turn. (The correct signal.)

If the driver is of the female persuasion, our observer says, this list must be completely revamped and rearranged. Well, anyhow, we don't believe in signals.—Detroit Saturday Night.

Large Cost of Building Federal-Aid Highways

The cost of building the federal-aid highway system of the United States has been approximately 50 cents per year for every man, woman and child in the country. The amount is based on the government's expenditures of $613,993,977 for completed highways since the program was started in 1916. There have been a total of 73,119 miles of federal-aid roads completed, as of September 30, 1928, and 10,915 miles are under construction, with 2,120 miles approved for construction.

AUTOMOBILE HINTS

Wabbling wheels are a continuous ailment in motordom.

All things come to him who waits, beginning with a traffic violation ticket.

The best way to be assured of receiving the courtesies of the road is to be a driver of a ten-ton truck.

The construction of the proposed elevated express highway along the Hudson in New York, has had the final approval of the board of estimates. Its cost may run close to $13,500,000.

It is essential to have water, oil and gas inspected before starting out on a long journey, says the National Automobile club. Also it is well to have the air pressure in all of the tires looked after.

C. E. Union to Hold a Party

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union it was decided to hold a "Good-Fellowship-Get-Together-Party" of Ulster County Christian Endeavorers, the goal of the movement being to stimulate interest in the activities of the union and to promote a deeper friendship among the individual members of the union.

The first meeting or party will be held in the Reformed Church of the Comforter on Friday evening, April 12, at 8 o'clock. The Rev. John Naender, pastor of the Reformed Church of Saugerties, will be the speaker of the evening. A social hour will follow the meeting and refreshments will be served.

ROYALTIES UNDER FEDERAL PATENTS NOT TAXABLE

Inventors, authors and playwrights will be affected by a ruling of the State Tax Commission released today that income from royalties derived from patents or copyrights issued by the United States government is not taxable under the personal income tax law. This ruling follows the decision of the Supreme court of the United States in the case of Long V. Rockwood, in which it was held that a state may not tax such royalties for the reason that such taxation would involve interference with functions of the federal government granted to it by the United States Constitution.

Taxpayers, therefore, in receipt of royalties from patents and copyrights need not include the same as taxable income when filing their returns for the year 1928 but will be required to make statements of the receipt thereof as nontaxable income.

The commission calls attention, however, to the fact that this ruling applies only to royalties from patents or copyrights granted by the United States government and that royalties from patents or copyrights issued by any other government will be subject to tax.

Returns may be filed now.

40 and 8 Sock Supper.

The 40 and 8 Society of Kingston Post No. 150, American Legion, will hold a plank steak supper at Golden Rule Inn on Tuesday evening, April 2, which legion members are invited to attend. Pledge Chef Chas. de Fer Pelham St. George Bissell will be the guest of the evening. Reservations should be made by March 30 and can be made by calling up the Memorial Building. Cars will leave the post building on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

Missionary Societies to Meet.

The Missionary Societies of St. James Church will meet with Mrs. Bohlmann, 14 Green street, March 29, at 2:30 p.m. The devotions will be led by Mrs. C. Hogan. Mrs. W. S. Hogan will give Chapter 2 in the Foreign Text Book. "Love" will be the key word for the roll call. Lenten offering.
